BETTER LAY IN YOUR SUGAR SUPPLY NOW

Reports from Europe all indicate an even greater demand for sugar from America than was expected in the latest information from the U. S. Food Administration. Nowhere is there an indication of a falling off in the requirement from us. Local production in practically all regions in Europe has been depressed.

The United States, through the operations of the Sugar Equalization board, enjoys a lower price than Europe, but the world situation makes it highly improbable that there will be any material decrease in the price in this country.

There is danger, however, that American distributors, through failure to place their orders now, may be on the verge of being unable to handle the sugar which will come to the country during the season, and in consequence much valuable food may be wasted through the housewives' inability to get and preserve it. As soon as shipping is more plentiful so that Europe may begin to import its sugar supplies in large quantities, the demand on American refineries will be so heavy to meet these orders that they will find great difficulty in caring for orders that will come in later from American dealers.

The requirement for diverting land in Europe ordinarily employed in sugar raising to other food crops, together with other economic causes reducing the European production, is likely to lower the crop there to considerably under 4,000,000 tons for 1918-19, as compared with 8,151,400 tons in 1913-14.

NICOLE PALMATTER MARRIED TO ILLINOIS LIEUTENANT

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at the Congregational church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when Miss Nicole Palmatter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Palmatter, of the Yorkville material store, was united in marriage, Rev. Noel J. Brood officiating. They were attended by their mothers, Mrs. Minnie Palmatter and Mrs. Charlotte C. Malone respectively, and Miss Alina Krieger of Madison as maid of honor, and Mr. Frank Walsh of this city as best man.

The bride party entered the vestibule, separating just inside the church proper, the bride accompanied by her mother, preceded by the maid of honor, and the groom attended by his mother, preceded by the best man, met at the altar. The ceremony was the double ring service which was most impressive. The wedding march was played by Miss Elizabeth Schreiner of Monticello, Wis., a pupil of the bride, and during the ceremony she played "Spring Song" very softly, with effect was most delightful. The church was decorated with ferns and flowers.

The bride was charming in a dress of white georgette crepe, and carried a shower bouquet of orchids roses. The maid of honor wore a gown of blue and gold georgette crepe and carried a bouquet of snapdragons. The mothers carried bouquets of magnolia. Mrs. Palmatter wore a gown of pink and white georgette crepe and Mrs. Malone wore a gown of lavender georgette crepe.

After the ceremony an elaborate four course breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, the color scheme in the dining room was most artistically carried out in pink and white roses. The home was a bower of flowers, the reception room presented an effect of fairy land. With the strains of thrilling music all through the breakfast, after which the most happy social hour with the newlyweds and friends was spent.

The wedding party accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Julius Yorkes Malone to the train showing good wishes and blessing for their journey through life. This city being the birth place and home she needs no introduction. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and became supervisor of music in the schools of Menomonee, Wisconsin which position she held for four years. The groom was born and raised in Jacksonville, Illinois, and graduated from the high school of that city. He then attended Ripon college from which he graduated, earning a fellowship and scholarship in the University of Wisconsin, pursuing his course in medicine. Graduating from there he entered the Chemical Warfare Service, serving for nearly two years, ranking as lieutenant, receiving two wounds in the scientific use of the war gases, then attending Washington University of St. Louis, Mo., as a student of the department of Pharmacology, from which he has accepted a fellowship assistant in brain surgery, for the coming year, also continuing his medical school course. The bride and groom will spend some time on the lakes and in Madison, entertained by their many friends and associates and which they will make their home in St. Louis, Mo. where they will be at home to all their friends.

"That Jones boy who used to work for you wants to hire out to me. Is he steady?"

"Steady? It he was any steadier he'd be noticeable."

GRAND RAPIDS GIRL WEDS SIGEL MAN ON WEDNESDAY

Miss Nellie Hunt and Robert Ogilvie, the former of this city and the latter a well known Sigel farmer, were married at the Congregational church Wednesday morning at 8:00 o'clock, Rev. Noel J. Brood performing the ceremony. Miss Tessie Hunt, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid while Earl Holt, was the groomsmen. Misses Margaret Horton and Gwendolyn Thompson acted as ring bearers. Following the ceremony the wedding party enjoyed a breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, following which the newlyweds left on a wedding tour to Chicago, Milwaukee and other points in the state, after which they will reside on the groom's farm in the town of Sigel. The friends of the contracting parties are well and favorably known here, the bride having taught in the schools of Wood County for the past four years, and is a graduate of the Wood County Normal. The groom is one of the progressive and industrious farmers of Sigel and owns a nice tract of land near there. The Tribune wishes them and their friends in wishing them happiness.

JOHNSON & HILL COMPANY, GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN

3 STATES RATIFY SUFFRAGE BILL

Illinois First to Pass Amendment; Wisconsin, Second; Michigan, Third.

22 GOVERNORS ASKED TO AID

Executive Urged by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt to Call Special Sessions of the Legislatures to O. K. Resolution.

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—Illinois became the first state to ratify the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the Federal Constitution giving women full rights of suffrage when both houses of the general assembly on Tuesday adopted a joint resolution. The vote in the house was 152 yeas and 3 nays. The senate vote was unanimous.

Madison, Wis., June 12.—The federal suffrage amendment to the Constitution has been ratified in Wisconsin by both houses of the legislature. The vote in the assembly was 54 to 2. The vote in the senate was 23 to 1. Only Senator Bilgus voted in opposition in the senate. Lieutenant Governor Dittmar gave the final notice of passage at 11:52 a. m. Tuesday.

Lansing, Mich., June 12.—Michigan adopted the national suffrage amendment Tuesday in a resolution between the house and senate to see which should get it across first. By requesting the chaplain to "make it snappy" and by making the vote unanimous without roll call the house won by 50 feet. Michigan women apparently were not wrought up about it, for not a woman was in either room except half a dozen women clerks.

U.S. WHEAT CROP OVER BILLION BU.

Production This Year Will Total 1,236,000,000 Bushels, Says Report.

VALUED AT $2,793,000,000

Crop is the Greatest on Record, Increasing 319,000,000 Bushels Over Last Year—Means Prosperity for Country.

Washington, June 10.—A wheat production of 1,236,000,000 bushels this year, combining the winter wheat and spring wheat crops, was forecast by the department of agriculture from the condition of the crop June 1.

The wheat crop alone is by far the greatest on record, increasing 319,000,000 bushels, or 34 per cent over last year's crop, and 210,000,000 bushels, or 24 per cent above the record in 1915, and 445,000,000 bushels over the five-year average of 1912-1917. Based on $2.25 average at Chicago, the wheat crop is worth $2,793,000,000, and on $2 the valuation is $2,472,000,000. This means prosperity for the farmers and business interests and railroads.

Winter wheat production is forecast at 893,000,000 bushels forecast last month, making it the largest ever grown. The condition of winter wheat was 94.0 per cent of a normal, compared with 100.5 last month and 89.5 last year.

Spring wheat production is forecast at 343,000,000 bushels, compared with last year's production of 359,000,000 bushels, which was a record crop. The acreage this year is 22,593,000, and the condition of the crop June 1 was 91.2 per cent of a normal, compared with 95.2 a year ago.

Details of other crops follow:

Oats—Production, 1,442,000,000; acreage, 42,365,000; condition, 93.2.

Barley—Production, 232,000,000 bushels; acreage, 8,899,000; condition, 91.7.

Rye—Production, 107,000,000 bushels; condition, 93.5.

Hay—Production, 116,000,000 tons; condition, 94.1.

TYRANNY OVER LABOR ENDED

Samuel Gompers Says Workers Determined to Have Voice in Settling Reconstruction Problems.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 11.—Tyranny, whether it be in the political or industrial life of the nation, will not be tolerated by organized labor, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, told delegates at the opening of the thirty-ninth session of the organization here on Monday. "Let me tell you this," he said: "If any employer believes that industrial autocracy is going to prevail in America, he is counting without his loss. We are making no unjust demands."

"Men and women shed their blood and made great sacrifices during the war because they were fighting for principles and ideals. Now that the war has been won the workers—the bone and flesh of the nation—do not intend those principles and ideals shall be lost sight of."

AMONG THE PUZZLES

REGULARS ARE COMING IS URGED TO SIGN

HOMEWARD MOVEMENT OF NATIONAL ARMY IS COMPLETE.

General March Announces That Movement of Regular Army Is On.

Washington, June 10.—Homeward movement of National Guard and National Army combat units from France is complete, Chief of Staff March announced on Saturday, all units having embarked for this country.

The movement of regulars has begun. General March stated. The Sixth division began its sailing this week. The army, General March said, was 65 per cent demobilized June 5. In France there remain 694,745 officers and men.

All embarkation records were broken in May, he said. Sailings from France totaled 333,303.

Enlistments in the regular army to date total 48,023 men. These figures do not include enlistments at army camps this week.

Since the recruiting campaign started five battalions of troops, totaling 4,929, have sailed for France to replace emergency men in regular army units.

Replacement for the emergency men in Siberia will be made from men who have not asked for service in any special place. General March said he expected no difficulty in solving the problem of obtaining the 10,000 men necessary for replacement in the Siberian expedition.

TERMS TOO SEVERE—AUSTRIA

President Seitz Tells Assembly Peace Conditions Are Impossible and Country Will Starve.

Vienna, June 10.—The peace terms presented to Austria are impossible and mean death to the country by starvation, President Seitz said in his address opening the extraordinary session of the national assembly. Foreign Minister Bauer made a report on his conference at Faidersheim with Doctor Renner, head of the Austrian peace delegation. After declaring that the minister was a peace of hate, the foreign minister released his personal vials of wrath against the Czechs, who, he said, had taken all of Austria's sugar and other industries. The loss of German Bohemia, he added, meant not merely the subtraction of 3,500,000 Germans to foreign rule, but the loss of the most valuable parts of German Austria, industrially and culturally.

Doctor Bauer said the people of the Tyrol, who love freedom above life, would never submit to the peace terms and that they, as well as the Germans of Bohemia, had the sympathy of all Germans.

PLAN TO CUT WAR BILL

War Department Estimates to Be Reduced by House Body—Bills Prohibit Immigration for 5 Years.

Washington, June 9.—War department estimates for the coming year will be reduced at least $400,000,000 by the house military committee. Provision will be included in the bill for an army of 400,000, instead of 500,000. The committee also will cut $1,200,000 from the estimate of $1,268,000,000 for 20 per cent. Bills prohibiting immigration for five years and placing more rigid restrictions upon aliens entering this country were introduced in the senate. One measure by Senator Reed of Utah would exclude alien anarchists and others who believe in the overthrow of governments through force.

SENATE FOR IRISH HEARING

Votes Request by 50 to 1 to Peace Conference in Paris to Receive Delegates.

Washington, June 9.—Senator Borah's resolution asking the American peace delegates at Paris to secure a hearing before the peace conference for the Irish delegates headed by Edward De Valera, provisional president of the Irish republic, was adopted on Friday by the senate, 50 to 1. Senator Williams, Democrat, of Mississippi, cast the negative vote. The resolution expressed the sympathy of the senate in the aspirations of the Irish people for "a government of its own choice."

Chicago, June 10.—Once more there are smiles on the faces of Great Lakes gobs. It was announced that orders have been received from Secretary Daniels to cut the personnel of the station 10 per cent by July 1.

HOW THE SENATE WILL HANDLE PACT

PRESIDENT WILSON PROBABLY WILL DELIVER THE TREATY TO IT IN PERSON.

LODGE'S COMMITTEE GETS IT

There the Document Will Be Subjected to Careful Study and Debate—New Peace Conference May Be Found Necessary.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—It is believed to be the intention of President Wilson to stick to the precedent which he established and to deliver in person the treaty of peace and the covenant of the league of nations to the United States senate, and to accompany the presentation with a speech of elucidation and endorsement.

Already a summary of the covenant of the league of nations and the peace terms have been given to the American people, but the facts as they have been written in extenso probably will be made public only when the president appears before the senate.

The means of making and of securing ratification of peace treaties and international pacts of this kind is of particular interest today. In fact, it is of greater interest, so some of the senators seem to think, than anything in connection with foreign affairs has been since President Monroe put forth the doctrine which has become historic.

As soon as the president has explained from his point of view all the sections of the treaty and of the covenant which really has been made a part of the treaty, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican chairman of the committee on foreign relations, will make a motion to have the treaty referred to the committee over which he presides. This motion will be agreed to unanimously, because such is the regular procedure.

In the committee there will be hours of study and debate given to the subject in hand. It is expected that in a large measure the committee proceedings will take on the semblance of a court. Experts on international law will be called to the stand.

Not for nothing has there been so much difficulty in determining the actual position of individual senators on any question. As a matter of fact the views of many of the senators have changed from day to day as different reports have come from the other side concerning final changes in the covenant.

Message and Majority Program

The message that congress opened the Republicans and the Democrats began putting bills into the legislative mill. The Republicans may or may not have been surprised when they discovered twenty-four hours later that many of the measures which they as members of the dominating party in congress had framed were along lines of legislation which the president should be followed in his communication to senate and house.

It is possible that this is the first time in the history of the republic that so far as presidential suggestions are concerned an opposition party has found itself largely in accord with the chief of the executive branch. The president's message was written some days before the Republican legislative measures saw the light, but as the news of the Republican action reached the people twenty-four hours ahead of that of the Democratic action, the party dominant in congress probably will claim the credit for taking the initiative.

So far as legislation, as at present outlined by the leaders of Republicanism, is concerned, there seems to be only the tariff upon which there is a wide difference of opinion between the Republican congressional majority and the administration. Of course as the session goes on the Republicans will develop new legislation which may or may not be in accord with the presidential views, but today the tariff looms as the one big post mortem of the way to the field of differences.

Working Along the Same Lines

The treaty of peace and the covenant of the League of Nations will furnish the hand gloves for the ring combat in the senate, but as these matters supposedly are removed from the field of partisanship it seems that so far as present-day indications are concerned the Republican congress and the administration are determined to run along the same line.

The president opened his message with a discussion of the labor situation. There he more or less left the tariff. The Republicans have not yet definitely formulated a plan of procedure to carry out their views of what should be done to make labor and capital partners. Things have changed since the old days and congress today would no more dare jockey with certain kinds of bills as it did years ago than it would do if given legislative sanction to a public-benefit pronouncement.

Secret to Be Kept

George—That horse knows as much as I do.

Clarke—Well, don't tell anybody. You may want to sell him some day.—London Answers.

TO FILL FLOOR CRACKS

A very complete filling for open cracks in floors may be made by thoroughly soaking old newspapers in a paste made of one pound of flour to three quarts of water, or a less quantity in those proportions. Put one tablespoonful of alum in the mixture and stir thoroughly until it is a boiling heat. Make the final mixture about as thick as putty and apply with a putty knife. It will harden like papier mache.

Rosin Cement

To fasten knives, screw drivers, etc., securely into their handles of staves, bore or wood, without using rivets, bore or burn a hole somewhat larger than the metal to be inserted into the handle. Fill loosely with equal parts of powdered rosin and fine, sharp sand. Make notches with chisel or file on handle part of knife, then heat and insert it. The rosin and sand will melt and cement the handle into place. Its position can be adjusted while still warm. When cool it will be strong and neat.

Kindness Counts for Much

There's no telling what a little kindness will do. Assumed superiority is no guarantee of greatness. The really big soul can afford to be kind and gentle. As the gentle rootlets move through stones and split rocks, so gentle charity accomplishes things undreamed of by rougher characters. This does not prohibit the use of that may be applied with such gentleness that it will get results without offending. This is beyond the reach of some men.—Exchange.

LOW OF FALLING BODIES

Since a body falls to the ground in consequence of the earth's attraction on each of its molecules, it follows that, everything else being the same, all bodies, great and small, light and heavy, ought to fall with equal rapidity. The fact that a stone falls more rapidly than a feather is due solely to the unequal resistance opposed by the air to the descent of these bodies. In a vacuum all bodies fall with equal rapidity.

Home Sympathy

"Does your husband tell you all about his business?"

"Yes," replied Mrs. Fetheroff. "Isn't it tiresome of him when there are so many really interesting things to talk about?"

The Boss

"I want a job where I can be my own boss," remarked the young man.

"You probably will be disappointed," answered Senator Sorghum. "No real boss ever succeeded in electing himself to any conspicuous distinction."

Expert Advice

"I paid $100 to a specialist just to have him tell me my heart isn't right," remarked the prosperous business man.

"Rank extravagance," responded his friend Titely. "I got the same information from a waiter and it didn't cost me a cent."

The Reason

"Nobody at weddings ever gives the bridegroom away."

"Of course not; you couldn't find anybody that mean."

MORGAN PARTNERS REVEALED TREATY

Former Senator Root Puts 'Leak' on Financier's Men.

NAMED BEFORE SENATE BODY

Henry P. Davison Says He Received Copy From Thomas W. Lamont, Member of Peace Conference in Paris.

Washington, June 12.—The responsibility for the "leak" of the peace treaty from Paris to Wall street has been definitely traced to Thomas W. Lamont, a member of the commission on reparations of the peace conference by appointment by President Wilson and a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.

It was Mr. Lamont who gave a copy of the treaty to Henry P. Davison of the same firm in Paris May 9. The copy was brought to New York by Mr. Davison and given to former Senator Ellhu Root, who showed it to Senator Lodge.

Transmission Is Established

It was this copy which Senator Lodge held in his hands and studied "for an hour and a half," as he informed the senate in presenting the charge that the treaty was in Wall street hands.

These facts were clearly established when the senate committee on foreign relations in opening the investigation of the "leak" heard the testimony of Mr. Root, Mr. Davison, J. P. Morgan and Frank A. Vanderlip. The chain of transmission from Lamont to Mr. Root was told about frankly and without any attempt at concealment of the facts.

Mr. Morgan and Mr. Vanderlip testified they had not been in possession of any copies.

Proves Lodge Charge

The investigation accounted for the copy which Senator Lodge saw, but did not account for any other copies, of which Senator Lodge said in the senate he knew of four, and Senator Borah said there were seven.

Notwithstanding this the investigation apparently will go no further, and no more witnesses will be called, unless Mr. Lamont should return from Europe in the near future.

In that event he will be asked by whose authority he gave a copy of the treaty to Mr. Davison.

Senator Borah said he was entirely satisfied with the investigation because it had established the fact that the international banking trust are interested in the league of nations covenant.

Root First Witness

Ellhu Root, former secretary of state, was the first witness in the investigation by the senate foreign relations committee of the peace treaty leak.

"Publication of the desire of the committee to learn how copies of the treaty reached this country," said Mr. Root, in beginning his statement, "led me to feel it was proper, if not a duty, for me to come here and give the committee certain knowledge on that subject which I have."

"I have a copy of that so-called treaty, have had it for several weeks. It was sent to me by H. P. Davison, chairman of the International Red Cross league. I stand upon my right to have it. I assert the entire propriety of his giving it to me. He had because of his legitimate interests in the Red Cross, involved in the treaty."

Mr. Root said he understood Mr. Davison had the copy in Paris in connection with Red Cross affairs and brought it away with him, there being at that time no intention of bringing

3 STATES RATIFY SUFFRAGE BILL

Illinois First to Pass Amendment; Wisconsin, Second; Michigan, Third.

22 GOVERNORS ASKED TO AID

Executives Urged by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt to Call Special Sessions of the Legislatures to O. K. Resolution.

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—Illinois became the first state to ratify the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the federal constitution giving women full rights of suffrage when both houses of the general assembly on Tuesday adopted a joint resolution. The vote in the house was 132 yeas and 3 nays. The senate vote was unanimous.

Madison, Wis., June 12.—The federal suffrage amendment to the constitution has been ratified in Wisconsin by both houses of the legislature. The vote in the assembly was 54 to 2. The vote in the senate was 23 to 1. Only Senator Bligh voted in opposition in the senate. Lieutenant Governor Dittmer gave the final notice of passage at 11:52 a. m. Tuesday.

Lansing, Mich., June 12.—Michigan adopted the national suffrage amendment Tuesday in a close race between house and senate to see which should get it across first. By requesting the chaplain to "bless it" and by making the vote unanimous without roll call the house won by 50 feet.

Michigan women apparently were not wrought up about it, for not a woman was in either room except half a dozen women clerks.

TYRANNY OVER LABOR ENDED

Samuel Gompers Says Workers Determined to Have Voice in Settling Reconstruction Problems.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 11.—Tyranny, whether it be in the political or industrial life of the nation, will not be tolerated by organized labor. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, told delegates at the opening of the thirteenth annual session of the organization here on Monday. "Let me tell you this," he said: "If any employer or politician is going to tyrannize in America, he is counting without his head. We are making no unjust demands."

"Men and women, shed their blood and made great sacrifices during the war because they were fighting for principles and ideals. Now that the war has been won the workers—the bone and flesh of the nation—do not intend those principles and ideals shall be lost sight of."

WOMAN KILLED BY GUNMEN

Assaults of Family of Mount Vernon, Ill., Fire Volley Through Window of Home and Escape.

Mount Vernon, Ill., June 10.—Mrs. Laura Neville died at the Egyptian hospital from wounds inflicted by a group of gunmen who surrounded the Neville home and fired through the windows. John W. Neville, her husband, who was seriously wounded by the mysterious assailants, is in serious condition, while John Mabry, the seven-year-old grandson of the Nevilles, who was shot in both legs, is also critically injured. The mysterious shooting has stirred the entire community. Theodore Bolen, a near neighbor of the Nevilles, is held in jail as a suspect.

REGULARS ARE COMING IS URGED TO SIGN

HOMEWARD MOVEMENT OF NATIONAL ARMY IS COMPLETE.

General March Announces That Movement of Regular Army Is On.

Washington, June 10.—Homeward movement of National Guard and National Army combat units from France is complete, Chief of Staff March announced on Saturday, all units having embarked for this country.

The movement of regulars has begun, General March stated. The Sixth division began its sailing this week.

The army, General March said, was 65 per cent demobilized June 5. In France there remain 694,745 officers and men.

All embarkation records were broken in May, he said. Sailings from France totaled 338,303.

Embarkations in the regular army to date total 48,023 men. These figures do not include enlistments at army camps this week.

Since the recruiting campaign started five battalions of troops, totaling 4,620, have sailed for France to replace emergency men in regular army units.

Replacement for the emergency men in Siberia will be made from men who have not asked for service in any special phase. General March expects no difficulty at solving the problem of obtaining the 10,000 men necessary for replacement in the Siberian expedition.

TERMS TOO SEVERE—AUSTRIA

President Seltz Tells Assembly Peace Conditions Are Impossible and Country Will Starve.

Vienna, June 10.—The peace terms presented to Austria are impossible and mean death to the country by starvation, President Seltz said in his address opening the extraordinary session of the national assembly. Foreign Minister Bauer made a report on his conference at Paderbach with Doctor Renner, head of the Austrian peace delegation. After declaring that the treaty was a peace of hate, the foreign minister released his personal views of wrath against the Czechs, who, he said, had taken all of Austria's sugar and other industries. The loss of German Bohemia, he added, meant not merely the subtraction of 3,500,000 Germans to foreign rule, but the loss of the most valuable parts of German Austria, industrially and culturally.

Doctor Bauer said the people of the Tyrol, who love freedom above life, would never submit to the peace terms and that they, as well as the Germans of Bohemia, had the sympathy of all Germans.

SENATE FOR IRISH HEARING

Votes Request by 60 to 1 to Peace Conference in Paris to Receive Delegates.

Washington, June 8.—Senator Borah's resolution asking the American peace delegates at Paris to secure a hearing before the peace conference for the Irish delegates headed by Edward De Valera, provisional president of the Irish republic, was adopted on Friday by the senate, 60 to 1. Senator Williams, Democrat, of Mississippi, cast the negative vote. The resolution expressed the sympathy of the senate in the aspirations of the Irish people for "a government of its own choice."

Villa Agents Arrested.

Bagu, Mex., June 12.—Mexican government authorities have arrested six men at Morelos, state of Coahuila, on charges of recruiting for Villa's revolutionary army. The men were taken to Piedras Negras.

Munitions Tax Is Upheld.

Philadelphia, June 11.—The wartime tax on the profits of munition manufacturers, contested by producers of parts of shells, who claimed the tax was intended to apply to completed articles, was upheld by the court.

Berlin Strike Ends.

Copenhagen, June 10.—Berlin reports say the 24-hour strike in protest against the execution of Levine Nissen, the Spartacist leader in Munich, resulted in little disorder. The capital was quiet.

HOW THE SENATE WILL HANDLE PACT

PRESIDENT WILSON PROBABLY WILL DELIVER THE TREATY TO IT IN PERSON.

LODGE'S COMMITTEE GETS IT

There the Document Will Be Subjected to Careful Study and Debate—New Peace Conference May Be Found Necessary.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington, June 12.—It is believed to be the intention of President Wilson to stick to the precedent which he established and to deliver in person the treaty of peace and the covenant of the league of nations to the United States senate, and to accompany the presentation with a speech of elucidation and endorsement.

Already a summary of the covenant of the league of nations and the peace terms have been given to the American people, but the pact as they have been written in extensive probably will be made public only when the president appears before the senate.

The means of making and of securing ratification of peace treaties and international pacts of all kinds is of particular interest today. In fact, it is of greater interest, so some of the senators seem to think, than anything in connection with foreign affairs has been since President Monroe put forth the doctrine which has become historic.

As soon as the president has explained from his point of view all the sections of the treaty, and of the covenant which really has been made a part of the treaty, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican chairman of the committee on foreign relations, will make a motion to have the treaty referred to the committee over which he presides. That motion will be agreed to unanimously, because such is the regular procedure.

Lodge's Committee to Pass on It.

In the committee there will be hours of study and debate given to the subject in hand. It is expected that in a large measure the committee proceedings will take on the semblance of a court.

Experts on international affairs and on constitutional law will be summoned to the committee. It is even possible that the president of the United States may be called into conference to give further explanation of some parts of the document in controversy. The sessions of the foreign relations committee will be executive, and not until a report is made to the senate will the public have full knowledge of what is going on.

There has been much discussion as to whether or not the senate has the power to amend the treaty. There is also a question as to whether or not the senate has the power to separate the treaty from the covenant of the league of nations and to consider the two things separately.

When the report of the committee is laid before the senate the first test will come which will tend to show to the final fate of the document. If the party lines will be ignored, because there are Democrats as well as Republicans opponents of the treaty and covenant as they stand, it may be that the majority report of the foreign relations committee will contain amendments to the treaty. If the minority report contains no amendments, but accepts the documents as they are, the senate could sanction the treaty and the covenant and the acceptance of the minority report.

It takes a two-thirds majority of the United States senate to ratify a treaty, but so far as the proceedings on the floor are concerned a majority is sufficient to amend. It is for this reason that amendments will be fought for and against just as hard as for or against the treaty itself.

"There is no Constitution of the United States a specification that all peace treaties must be ratified 'as soon as possible.' Just how long 'as soon as possible' will mean in the present case it is hard to forecast. Certain it is that it will take a considerable time for the senate to get through with the business in hand. It must be remembered that the treaty is a long one, 30,000 words in length, in fact. The limitations of human endurance and mental acumen therefore, will prevent a quick consideration and adoption or rejection of the document.

An authority has said this concerning possible senate procedure:

"If the senate should determine to amend the treaty and if, also, other nations parties to the treaty should fail to concur, the result would be no treaty at all and a new peace conference would have to be called. In case amendments are made, the treaty finally will come up for ratification in the form in which it is presented."

Senate Themselves in Doubt.

The fog which enveloped two United States violators on their approach to the coast of the Azores was no thicker than that which envelops the United States senate to cover up the details of prospective action concerning the treaty of peace and covenant of the league of nations.

Lately thousands of sheets have been covered with writings concerning the intentions of the senate in these two high matters, and yet confessedly today on the part of many senators nothing has been written right, unless perchance developments should show that someone accidentally has hit the truth.

The trouble is that the senators individually do not know just what they can do in the way of amending the treaty or the covenant, and to have the amendment stand without, so far as the United States is concerned, committing both great documents to the wastebasket. There are senators today who are opposed to the league of nations as it stands, and to some extent to admit that possible sanction will come for both documents without the variation of a hair from the line of the originals.

There are other senators who say that it will be perfectly feasible to amend either document and to have the amendments quickly sanctioned by the other powers. This is talking in a fog so far as these senators are concerned, because so great is the uncertainty concerning procedure that even the wise ones do not know today what must be done on the other side to put into effect such amendments as the senate may suggest, if there is a disposition to accept such amendments.

Grappling in the Fog.

There has been considerable difficulty in getting debate information as to whether or not parliamentary action of the various countries involved, favoring the United States, is necessary to put the league treaty into full effect. Within a day one senator has said that the plenipotentiaries of all countries except the United States have full power to act for their governments and that no ratification is necessary. Another senator has said that the plenipotentiaries of all countries must acquiesce. It is, of course, a matter of debate knowledge that in some cases the plenipotentiaries' act is final, but in some cases it is not. The illustration is given simply to show how many senators are groping.

It may be that the senate will succeed in securing a majority vote to separate, for the purposes of consideration, the treaty of peace and the covenant of the league, but separating the two things are so interwoven that if the separation comes it will be difficult to sanction them separately without a great many explanations which may so befuddle the whole situation that the United States might as well be considered out of the thing for a long time to come.

Many Changing Their Views.

Not far years has there been so much difficulty in determining the action of individual senators on any question. As a matter of fact the views of many of the senators have changed from day to day as different reports have come from the other side concerning final changes in the covenant.

Message and Majority Program.

The day that congress opened the Republicans and the Democrats began putting forth the legislative program. The Republicans may or may not have been surprised when they discovered twenty-four hours later that many of the measures which they as members of the dominant party in congress had framed were along lines of legislation which the president advised should be followed in his communication to senate and house.

It is possible that this is the first time in the history of the senate that so far as presidential suggestions are concerned an opposition party has found itself largely in accord with the platform of the enemy party. The president's message was written some days before the Republican legislative measures saw the light, but as the news of the Republican action reached the people twenty-four hours ahead of that of the Democratic action, the news of the legislative policies which they may or may not be in accord with the presidential views, but today the tariff looms as the one big sticking point in the way to the field of differences.

Working Along the Same Lines.

The treaty of peace and the covenant of the League of Nations will turn the hard gloves for the ring contest in the senate, but as these matters supposedly are removed from the field of partisanship it seems that so far as presidential indications are concerned the Republican congress and the administration are determined to run along the same line.

The president opened his message with a discussion of the labor situation. There is more politics in labor than in the tariff. The Republicans have not yet definitely formulated a plan of procedure to carry out their views of what should be done to make labor and capital partners. Things have changed since the old days and congress today would no more dare jockey with certain kinds of bills as it did years ago than it would dare give legislative form to a public-bred damned pronouncement.

Some kind of labor legislation is to come out of congress within six months. Whether or not it will meet the ideals of the idealistic radicals has been seen, but it is apt to be practical and therefore more serviceable than anything that a dreamer could devise in his dreams.

TO FILL FLOOR CRACKS.

A very complete filling for open cracks in floors may be made by thoroughly soaking old newspapers in a paste made of one pound of flour to three quarts of water, or a less quantity in those proportions. Put one tablespoonful of alum in the mixture and stir thoroughly until brought to a boiling heat. Make the final mixture about as thick as putty and apply with a putty knife. It will harden like putty.

LOW OF FALLING BODIES.

Since a body falls to the ground in consequence of the earth's attraction on each of its molecules, it follows that, everything else being the same, all bodies, great and small, light and heavy, ought to fall with equal rapidity. The fact that a stone falls more rapidly than a feather is due solely to the unequal resistance opposed by the air to the descent of those bodies. In a vacuum all bodies fall with equal rapidity.

Kindness Counts for Much.

There's no telling what a little kindness will do. Assumed superiority is no guarantee of greatness. The really big soul can afford to be kind and gentle. As the gentle ripples move stones and split rocks, so gentle manners accomplish things undreamed of by rougher channels.

Kindness counts for much. This does not mean the use of firmness when necessary. But even that may be applied with such gentleness that it will get results without offending. This is beyond the reach of some men.—Exchange.

Home Sympathy.

"Does your husband tell you all about his business?"

"Yes," replied Mrs. Peckerton. "Isn't it ironic of him when there are so many really interesting things to talk about?"

"I want a job where I can be my own boss," remarked the young man. "You probably will be disappointed," answered Senator Sorghum. "No real boss ever succeeded in electing himself to any conspicuous distinction."

The Boss.

"I paid $100 to a specialist just to have him tell me my heart isn't right," remarked the prosperous business man.

"Rank extravagance," responded his friend Tildy. "I got the same information from a waiter and it didn't cost me a cent."

The Reason.

"Nobody at weddings ever gives the bridegroom away."

"Of course not; you couldn't dud anybody that mean."

MORGAN PARTNERS REVEALED TREATY

Former Senator Root Puts 'Leak' on Financier's Men.

NAMED BEFORE SENATE BODY

Henry P. Davison Says He Received Copy From Thomas W. Lamont, Member of Peace Conference in Paris.

Washington, June 12.—The responsibility for the "leak" of the peace treaty from Paris to Wall street has been definitely traced to Thomas W. Lamont, a member of the commission on reparations of the peace conference by appointment by President Wilson and a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.

It was Mr. Lamont who gave a copy of the treaty to Henry P. Davison of the same firm in Paris May 9. The copy was brought to New York by Mr. Davison and given to former Senator Bligh Root, who showed it to Senator Lodge.

Transmission Is Established.

It was this copy which Senator Lodge held in his hands and studied "for an hour and a half," as he informed the senate in presenting the charge that the treaty was in Wall street hands.

STATE MAY NOT BE ON BONE DRY LIST

Mulberger Bill Would Legalize
Traffic in Beer and Wine.

ACT CALLS FOR AN ELECTION

Present Liquor Laws Would Stand If
Constitutional Amendment Fails
—Submit to Vote of People
in 1920.

Madison.—The Wisconsin senate committee on state affairs has recommended for passage, by a vote of 4 to 3, a prohibition enforcement measure which recognizes beer containing not more than 2.75 per cent of alcohol as a nonintoxicant. The matter will be brought up in the senate this week.

The committee recommends the prohibition enforcement measure containing the 2.75 per cent beer clause, in place of the Olson measure, which was defeated by the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league.

The recommendation of the committee has brought the dry forces up to date. It means a legislative battle royal when the measures are finally taken up for consideration. The bill recognizes 2.75 per cent beer and will come into the senate in the form of a substitute offered by Senator Mulberger of Watertown. Dry leaders had hoped that the Olson bill would be recommended for passage and claim that they will defeat the Mulberger amendment and would rather have no legislation at all than that proposed by the committee.

Under the terms of the Mulberger bill recommended for passage by the committee, the question whether the provisions of the measure shall continue to be in force and effect from and after January 21, 1921, shall be submitted to a vote of the people at the November election in 1920. If approved by a majority of the votes cast upon that question it shall continue in force and effect from and after January 1, 1920, otherwise it shall come to be of force and effect and become null and void.

"Intoxicating liquors within the purview of said constitutional amendment and the provisions of this act shall be construed to be and include all liquors and drinks of whatsoever name or description, including patent or proprietary medicines, capable of being used as a beverage containing more than 2.75 per cent of alcohol by weight at 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Pure grain alcohol wines and other liquors containing more than 2.75 per cent of alcohol by weight may be manufactured in or exported from this state for medicinal, mechanical, scientific and sacramental purposes only, and may be sold as such, provided, that no such purposes, other than medicinal, mechanical, scientific and sacramental purposes, shall be intended, and that such liquors shall be sold in sealed containers, and shall be sold only as such, and shall not be otherwise manufactured or sold, provided its manufacture complies strictly with the laws now or hereafter enacted by congress relative thereto and the rules and regulations issued by the department of internal revenue."

The intoxicating liquors in the Mulberger substitute which was recommended for passage is defined as the above.

The vote of the committee was 4 to 3 for the Mulberger amendment, as follows:

For the Mulberger amendment—Senators Stevens, Arnold, Mulberger and Bligh—4.

Against the Mulberger amendment—Senators Olson and Donahue—3.

There were several substitutes pending before the state affairs committee when it took action.

The Burke substitute providing for 2.75 per cent beer was unanimously recommended for indefinite postponement.

The Olson substitute, which has the backing of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league and which provides for the enforcement of the dry laws through the attorney general's office, was recommended for indefinite postponement by a vote of 4 to 3.

The Mulberger substitute was then adopted in place of the original Bennett measure, which was introduced early in the session.

Senator H. E. Roethe offered an amendment to the Mulberger substitute to permit the manufacture of home-made wines, but this amendment was defeated.

The proposed Mulberger law provides for a "prohibition commissioner," appointed by the governor, at an annual salary of $4,000. He would be elected for a term of four years and his appointment would be subject to confirmation by the state senate.

It would be up to this commissioner to enforce prohibition in Wisconsin and it would be the duty of all district attorneys, sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables and other law-enforcement officials to assist him.

Registers of Deeds Meeting.
Edwin Koellner of Sheboygan was elected president of the Wisconsin State Registers of Deeds association in the final session of the second annual convention at Green Bay the past week. Frank H. Smith of Green Bay was elected secretary and treasurer. The registers voted to meet in Sheboygan next year and a resolution was adopted which will be presented to county boards throughout the state asking that the expenses of the registers in attending the association be paid by the county.

Wisconsin Official is Honored.
George P. Hambrick, chairman of the Wisconsin industrial commission, was elected president of the Association of Governmental Employment Officials of the United States and Canada. J. M. McLeod of Alberta, Man., was chosen first vice president; S. C. Grosche of South Carolina, second vice president; F. E. Van Alstine, third vice president; E. H. Gault, Oklahoma, fourth vice president; R. J. Somers, Alaska, fifth vice president; L. H. Bessette, Topeka, Kan., secretary-treasurer.

Largest Sign Welcomes Heroes.
One of the largest electric signs in the world is on the new state capital building. It is eight feet high and completely encircles the huge dome of the capital, 308 feet in circumference. The sign reads: "Wisconsin Welcomes Her Soldiers, Sailors, Marines, Nurses."

Fish Inquiry is Voted Down.
The assembly killed, 23 to 40, the Graess resolution providing for a joint committee to investigate the fishing industry and report necessary legislation at the next session. Graess insisted the step was necessary to wipe out all confusion about the fish law.

Report on Aircraft Measure.
Following a public hearing on the Jennings aircraft landing field bill, the senate committee on state affairs reported the bill out with a recommendation that it be passed. The measure authorizes the county board of park commissioners, with the sanction of the county board, to establish airplane landing and service stations and erect aircraft service stations and give away and with which to "demonstrate" all that this proposed committee could learn in a long, expensive trip over the state.

Menasha—Work of construction will begin at once on the new paper mill of the Peapack Paper Products Co. A one-cylinder machine manufacturing a ninety-six inch roll is to be installed at once, but the mill will be built to accommodate two additional machines.

Janesville—Bert Grodvaart, well known drifter, died when his right arm, caught in a windlass, was torn from its socket. The jagged vein was drawn through the shoulder and severed. He leaves a widow and three children.

Stevens Point—A J. Charlesworth was killed by a train at Kilbourn. After attending the state Macabee convention at Madison he left for Kilbourn to visit his daughter. The accident occurred as he stepped from the train.

Badger State Happenings

Madison.—John C. Spooner, former United States senator from Wisconsin, died at his home in New York after a illness of several weeks. He suffered a relapse after having partially recovered from a nervous breakdown. Because of his age, 76, his family feared for his life when he was first stricken. Mr. Spooner served as senator sixteen years, and retired in 1907, two years before completing his last term, to re-enter the practice of law. John Cobb Spooner, born at Lawrenceburg, Ind., Jan. 6, 1843, the son of Philip Loring and Lydia (Cott) Spooner, was of Puritan ancestry on both sides of his family. Coming to Wisconsin from Indiana in June, 1859, the senator's family settled in Madison, where he received his education at the Madison schools and the University of Wisconsin. In 1864 the future senator raised a company of volunteers, but although entitled to a commission in the company, he chose to enlist as a private in Company D of the Fortieth Wisconsin infantry, largely composed of university students and professors. He was brevetted major in 1865 at the age of 22, and was mustered out the following year. In 1867 he was admitted to the bar, having meanwhile been appointed private and clerk of the court for the county of Columbia, which he was known in later years before arriving at senatorial dignities. He was quartermaster general of Wisconsin, 1868-70, and assistant attorney general for two terms under Attorney General Charles R. Gillett and Attorney General S. S. Barlow.

Madison.—Sept. 29 will be the opening day of the academic year 1919-1920 at the University of Wisconsin, according to action taken by the faculty. Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1 will be registration days. Classes will begin Oct. 2. Christmas recess will begin Tuesday evening, Dec. 23, and extend to Monday morning, Jan. 5, and examinations for Sept. 22, instead of Sept. 22, as previously announced.

Wausau.—A contract has been given Carl Hilber to grade and surface eight miles of road on federal route No. 10 from Mosinee south to the Portage county line. No satisfactory bids were received from similar work on route No. 16, and the county will have to have a fair chance of recovery, although physicians in charge of his case had not expected him to survive. Welsh is said to have been stabbed by a colored waiter on the train, following a disagreement.

Superior.—Stabbed one-sixteenth of an inch below the heart, George E. Welsh, cook on the Gopher, limited of Great Northern railway, was reported to have a fair chance of recovery, although physicians in charge of his case had not expected him to survive. Welsh is said to have been stabbed by a colored waiter on the train, following a disagreement.

Madison.—The proposed increase in coal freight rates of about $2,000,000 annually, which was about to be ordered by the director of the railroads, will not go into effect until ordered by the interstate commerce commission, according to information received by Carl D. Jackson, chairman of the Wisconsin railroad commission.

Kenosha.—While widening the Somers road near the Smith farm recently, workmen uncovered three skeletons. The graves were about three feet deep. It is not recollected by old residents that a graveyard was ever there, and the location of the graves marks the location of an Indian burying ground.

Two Rivers.—The Two Rivers Home Builders' association, capitalized at $200,000, will help solve the housing problem here. A hundred new homes will be built this summer. The Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Co. and the Eggers Veneer Co. are the principal stockholders.

Stevens Point.—Two attempts to wreck Soo line trains near this city by placing a pile of ties on the tracks failed. The ties were first discovered by the crew of a freight train. One and one-half hours later, when the south-bound passenger came along the right of way was again blocked.

La Crosse.—Dr. Greger Smedal, 44, widely known surgeon, died at his home here of pneumonia. He was a native of Telemark, Norway, and a former officer in the Norwegian army. He was a graduate of the University of Christiania and of Rush Medical college, Chicago.

Menasha.—The Menasha Chamber of Commerce organized a building company to undertake the immediate erection of thirty homes to relieve the housing shortage. The company is to be capitalized at $50,000.

Stevens Point.—John W. Brown of this city has been elected great commander of the Macabee order of Wisconsin for the ninth time. He was chosen after twenty-four years of continuous service.

Kenosha.—Max Menzel is certainly a persevering sort of a fellow. Mr. Menzel, senior member of the Menzel & Hendrickson meat market, whose license to sell meats was revoked by the health department, applied to that board for the position of meat inspector.

Menasha.—The latest addition to this city's list of industries is a large boiler works to be erected by Messrs. Bruce and Hess. The plant will be in operation by Oct. 1.

Baraboo.—All buildings and contents of the Great Northern Nursery owned by M. F. Foley, together with three horses, were destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $30,000 with insurance of about $5,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Watertown.—Provisions of the will of Mrs. Caroline Strauss were set aside by Judge Kirkland and all but one-eighth of an estate of about $2,000, was given to aliens residing in Germany, to be given to the custodian of alien property.

Monroe.—A grindstone upon which Henry F. Stauffer was grinding a sickle burst, and Mr. Stauffer is now at the Deaconess hospital with a broken arm and bruises about the body. A piece of the stone tore its way through the floor of the barn lot.

Stevens Point.—A J. Charlesworth was killed by a train at Kilbourn. After attending the state Macabee convention at Madison he left for Kilbourn to visit his daughter. The accident occurred as he stepped from the train.

Marquette.—Gen. Joshua Hodgins, quartermaster general of Wisconsin for ten years and chief of the Marquette fire department, passed away unexpectedly at his home here, at the age of 63 years. He had been ill for some time with heart disease, but had been feeling unusually well and cheerful on the day of his death. Gen. Hodgins was born in Kincaid, Canada, in 1856 and came to Wisconsin with his parents in the late sixties. He was educated in the public schools of Appleton, and later attended Milton college, and later attended Milton college in 1873. He came to Marquette in 1873 and engaged in the hardware business. He was a member of the Marquette fire department for more than 40 years and was chief for nearly 20 years.

Madison.—A circular in the State Historical library issued during 1830, describing the attractiveness of Dane county lands, seems to be a genuine record of current prices. After praising the lands that could be bought from the government at $1.25 per acre, the report concludes: "Madison is the only town, and is a delightful situation. It contains two stores, three public houses, three groceries, one steam mill, and in all, thirty-five buildings. Prices the past season have ranged as follows: Corn, per bushel, $1.25; oats, 75c; potatoes $1 per bushel; butter, 37 1/2 to 62 1/2 cents; eggs, 37 1/2 cents per dozen; pork and beef, from 7 to 12 cents per pound."

Janesville.—Definite arrangements for the establishment of a public health dispensary at Janesville have been completed and it is expected to be opened within thirty days. Final action was taken at a meeting of medical men of the city, representatives of the city, Chamber of Commerce, city council, Rotary club, Red Cross and Woman's club. They voted unanimously in favor of Dr. M. A. Cunningham's motion that it go on record in favor of establishing a dispensary.

Elkhorn.—Walworth county is going forward with a large road building program this year. Two stretches of concrete road are now in process of construction and two more have been contracted for. Five day labor gangs are constructing gravel roads on state trunk system, or repairing bad state roads previously built. Proposed for the highway law an additional fifty miles of state trunk highway.

Superior.—Stabbed one-sixteenth of an inch below the heart, George E. Welsh, cook on the Gopher, limited of Great Northern railway, was reported to have a fair chance of recovery, although physicians in charge of his case had not expected him to survive. Welsh is said to have been stabbed by a colored waiter on the train, following a disagreement.

Madison.—The proposed increase in coal freight rates of about $2,000,000 annually, which was about to be ordered by the director of the railroads, will not go into effect until ordered by the interstate commerce commission, according to information received by Carl D. Jackson, chairman of the Wisconsin railroad commission.

Kenosha.—While widening the Somers road near the Smith farm recently, workmen uncovered three skeletons. The graves were about three feet deep. It is not recollected by old residents that a graveyard was ever there, and the location of the graves marks the location of an Indian burying ground.

Ty Cobb, Hughie Jennings and "Wild Bill" Donovan.

When you are in a little group of fans and the talk is frittering away about a dead silence a good way to knock them all cold is to loudly announce: "I discovered Ty Cobb," or "If it hadn't been for me Eddie Collins would be selling ham sandwiches on the B. & O." But anyway, Wild Bill Donovan came out with the announcement that he was the real Edison who gave Ty Cobb to the baseball world. Barker to William.

Madison.—Sept. 29 will be the opening day of the academic year 1919-1920 at the University of Wisconsin, according to action taken by the faculty. Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1 will be registration days. Classes will begin Oct. 2. Christmas recess will begin Tuesday evening, Dec. 23, and extend to Monday morning, Jan. 5, and examinations for Sept. 22, instead of Sept. 22, as previously announced.

Wausau.—A contract has been given Carl Hilber to grade and surface eight miles of road on federal route No. 10 from Mosinee south to the Portage county line. V. INNING HURLER IS PENNANT CONTENDER

So Declares John McGraw, Manager of New York Giants.

Hugo Bezdek, Leader of Pirates, Declares Club Must Have More Than One Winning Pitcher—Problem Open for Discussion.

Baseball managers do not lamp the possibilities of a ball club in the same manner. At the January pow-wow in New York, some of the major league pilots were discussing pennants and pennant chances. John McGraw of New York started a live discussion when he declared one winning pitcher can make a flag contender out of an otherwise mediocre club. McGraw's views were shared by some of the leaders, but Hugo Bezdek of the Pittsburgh Pirates does not accept the McGraw dogma.

McGraw pointed to the success of the Giants when he had none other than Matthewson to depend upon for mound duty. He also recalled the Washington club's success each season for the last few years with only Walter Johnson to stir on the rubber. These cases, according to McGraw, are good grounds for his argument.

Bezdek declared a ball club must have something more than one pitcher from one pitcher, and he backs his argument with the story of William Cooper's work for the Pirates last season. Cooper lost nearly all of his games by one run simply because the Pirates did not have the necessary punch to aid him with a run or two, says Bezdek, and the speech sounds reasonable, too.

The argument was not ended in the one session, but there is much evidence on both sides that is deserving of serious consideration. McGraw's

Clayton released infielder Cranshaw and he was at once taken by San Antonio.

King Lear is to be retained by the Cubs, now that the club is allowed 25 players.

Bobby Stow having returned to the Fort Worth team, Manager Jakey Alt has benched himself.

The Browns flashed the first triple steal in the majors this year. Sister Williams and Demmitt were the burglars.

Nowkirk, the Bloomington pitcher hailed as a wonder from the Pacific coast, lasted one inning in his first game.

Radison is doing great work behind the bat for Pat Moran. McGraw may be sorry he let him go before the season is over.

Not many managers have declared their clubs in as pennant winners yet. The war has worked more reform than one.

High, center fielder for the Evansville Three-Eye team, was the only man in the league to get three hits on the opening day.

Grover Alexander's picture shows a 90-pound pack on his sturdy back. They don't issue packs in the Shipbuilders' league.

Billy Evans says a batter cannot take his base on a balk. We've seen some pitchers who could barely make first on four balls.

Manager Patsy Flaherty of the Colonels has a new pitcher by the name of Friday, who has been dubbed "Fish" by his teammates.

Shortstop Harry Daulton, after being reported signed by several clubs this spring, caught on with New Orleans.

Eddie Ahlsmith is hitting like Ty Cobb these days because he copies Ty's style. Funny, with Ty in the league all these years, Ahlsmith couldn't have seen him before.

A spectacular feature of Tulsa's opening game was a home run by Hewitt with the bases full, scoring all

STATE MAY NOT BE

Traffic in Beer and Wine.

ACT CALLS FOR AN ELECTION

Present Liquor Laws Would Stand If
Constitutional Amendment Fails
—Submit to Vote of People
In 1920.

Madison.—The Wisconsin senate committee on state affairs has recommended for passage, by a vote of 4 to 3, a prohibition enforcement measure which recognizes beer containing not more than 2.75 per cent of alcohol as a nonintoxicant. The matter will be threshed out in the senate this week.

The committee recommends the prohibition enforcement measure containing the 2.75 per cent beer clause, in place of the Olson measure, which was desired by the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league.

The recommendation of the committee has brought the dry forces upstanding. It means a legislative battle royal when the measures are finally taken up for consideration. The bill recognizes 2.75 per cent beer and will come into the senate in the form of a substitute offered by Senator Mulberger of Watertown. Dry leaders had hoped that the Olson bill would be recommended for passage and claim that they will defeat the Mulberger amendment and would rather have no legislation at all than that proposed by the committee.

Under the terms of the Mulberger bill recommended for passage by the committee, the question whether the provisions of this act shall be construed to be in force and effect from and after January 21, 1921, shall be submitted to a vote of the people at the November election in 1920. If approved by a majority of the votes cast upon that question it shall continue in force and effect from and after January 1, 1920, otherwise it shall cease to be of force and effect and become null and void.

"Intoxicating liquors within the purview of said constitutional amendment are the beverages of this act shall be construed to be in force and effect from and after January 21, 1921, shall be submitted to a vote of the people at the November election in 1920. If approved by a majority of the votes cast upon that question it shall continue in force and effect from and after January 1, 1920, otherwise it shall cease to be of force and effect and become null and void.

The intoxicating liquor in the Mulberger substitute which was recommended for passage is defined as the above.

The vote of the committee was 4 to 3 for the Mulberger amendment, as follows:

For the Mulberger amendment—Senators Stevens, Arnold, Mulberger and Bilerion—4.

Against the Mulberger amendment—Roeckie, Olson and Dennhardt—3.

There were several substitutes pending before the state affairs committee when it took action.

The Burke substitute providing for 2.75 per cent beer was unanimously recommended for indefinite postponement.

The Olson substitute, which has the backing of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league and which provides for the enforcement of the dry laws through the attorney general's office, was recommended for indefinite postponement by a vote of 4 to 3.

The Mulberger substitute was then adopted in place of the original Bennett measure which was introduced early in the session.

Senator H. E. Roethe offered an amendment to the Mulberger substitute to permit the manufacture of home-made wines, but this amendment was defeated.

The proposed Mulberger law provides for a "prohibition commissioner," appointed by the governor, at an annual salary of $4,000. He would be named for a term of four years and his appointment would be subject to confirmation by the state senate.

It would be up to this commissioner to enforce prohibition in Wisconsin and it would be the duty of all district attorneys, sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables and other law-enforcement officials to assist him.

Registers of Deeds Meeting.

Edwin Koelner of Sheboygan was elected president of the Wisconsin State Registers of Deeds association in the final session of the second annual convention at Green Bay the past week. Frank H. Smith of Green Bay was re-elected secretary and treasurer. The registers voted to meet in Sheboygan next year and a resolution was adopted which will be presented to county boards throughout the state asking that the expenses of the registers in attending the association be paid by the county.

Wisconsin Official Is Honored.

George P. Hainbrecht, chairman of the Wisconsin Industrial commission, was elected president of the Association of Governmental Employment Officials of the United States and Canada. J. M. McLeod of Alberta, Minn., was chosen first vice president; S. C. Groeschel of North Carolina, second vice president; F. E. Wood, Alabama, third vice president; Ethel Elliott, Oklahoma, fourth vice president; R. J. Somers, Alaska, fifth vice president; Linta E. Bressette, Topeka, Kan., secretary-treasurer.

Largest Sign Welcomes Heroes.

One of the largest electric signs in the world is on the new state capitol building. It is eight feet high and completely circles the huge dome of the capitol, 308 feet in circumference. The sign reads: "Wisconsin Welcomes Her Soldiers, Sailors, Marines, Nurses." It will be illuminated by 2,800 red lights. Nearly 2,500 feet of lumber was used in building it. The state's participation in the war afforded countless remarkable records, and the purpose is not to be outdone by any other state.

Five G. O. P. Seek Executive Seat.

It is now certain there will be at least five candidates for the Republican nomination for governor and possibly six if efforts on the part of some to get a returned soldier to make the race succeed.

So far J. N. Wittmore, Omro, president of the Wisconsin and National Society of Equity is the only one who has so far definitely announced his candidacy. He declared himself defeated for the nomination for governor last fall, that he would be a candidate again in 1920 and every two years until he is elected.

The other men who are sure to be candidates for the Republican nomination are Lieutenant Governor Dillmar, Secretary of State Merin Hull, Lawrence C. Whitte, executive secretary and former speaker of the house, and Senator Ray P. Wilson. Emil Claess, who ran a close race with Governor Philip.

Dillmar will be the La Follette candidate and is depending upon his own strength, having been elected lieutenant governor three times.

Secretary of State Hull has not announced his candidacy, but members of the assembly, who have been seen in consultation with him frequently during the session, make no secret of it.

From present indications Whitte will be forced into the race by his many friends.

Although Senator Wilson has not announced his candidacy and probably will not do so for months, it is generally conceded he is even now a candidate, and his closest friends admit he will be in the race.

Returned soldiers are said to be divided on the question of running one of their number for the Republican nomination for governor. A bona was attempted for Brig. Gen. C. R. Bonbrun, Oshkosh, but he has declared he will not be a candidate, and reports have been received here that the same persons will try to get Col. William Mitchell Lewis, Lincoln, to seek the nomination.

For lieutenant governor, Senator A. J. Patten, who served in the medical corps, may be a candidate, while former Senator C. H. Rowlett, Racine, who made the race with Wilson in 1918, will likely enter the race again and friends of Senator A. H. Wilcox, Dane, are urging him to enter the field.

C. B. Shaffer, Madison, chief clerk of the assembly, is being mentioned for secretary of state, as also Assistant Secretary W. H. Naylor of Tonaw.

Accept State Child Labor Permits.

Wisconsin has been officially designated by the commissioner of internal revenue as one of the states in which child labor permits, issued by state authorities, will be accepted as complying with the provisions of the new federal child labor law.

The law provides a 10 per cent tax on net profits of all corporations, partnerships and individuals who employ children below fourteen years of age in any mill, cannery, workshop, factory or manufacturing establishment, or below sixteen in any mine. The same tax is imposed if children between fourteen and sixteen years are employed more than eight hours per day, or at night work, or more than six days a week.

This federal law is identical with the child labor law which was declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme court a few months ago, except that the penalty now provided is a tax of 10 per cent on net profits instead of a heavy fine.

"This new law," said George P. Hainbrecht, chairman of the industrial commission, "makes it more important than ever for Wisconsin employers to observe strictly the provisions of the state child labor law. The commissioner of internal revenue has given us formal notice that permits issued by the industrial commission and its deputies will be accepted as complying with the federal law. If employers, however, do not observe the state law, they will find they are up against a 10 per cent tax on their net profits."

The industrial commission urges that no minors be employed unless the employer has documentary proof of age.

State Will Have 10,000 in Guard.

Six regiments of infantry, one regiment each of cavalry, light artillery, heavy artillery and battalions of engineers, signal corps, machine gun and regulation special units, together with an aero squadron, are included in re-organization plans of the Wisconsin National Guard, announced by Adj. Gen. Oswald Heller.

Approximately 10,000 officers and men will be recruited with 4,000 in reserve. One-year enlistments will be provided through the new arrangement. Officers with overseas fighting experience may enter the guard at their regular army rating.

Two field hospitals and two ambulance companies, a headquarters company and supply company will be created.

Liquor Men Plan for Future.

Refrain liquor dealers of Wisconsin do not expect to have prohibition and to display their faith that the state and country will remain wet they have decided to meet at Appleton in 1920. This was the action taken at the closing session at Sheboygan of the State Retail Liquor Dealers' Protective Association. W. J. Gleason was re-elected president. Other officers who were also re-elected are: William Schmidtke, Milwaukee, vice president; C. A. Hartwig, Manitowish, treasurer; Oscar Morris, secretary.

Fish Inquiry Is Voted Down.

The assembly killed, 28 to 40, the new resolution providing for a joint committee to investigate the fishing industry and report necessary legislation at the next session. Grassie insisted the step was necessary to wipe out all confusion about the fish laws. Assemblyman Peterson, a commercial fisherman of Marinette, informed the assembly he has 150 pounds of fish to give away and with which to demonstrate all that this proposed committee could learn in a long, expensive trip over the state.

Report on Aircraft Measures.

Following a public hearing on the Jennings aircraft landing field bill, the senate committee on state affairs reported the bill out with a recommendation that it be passed. The measure authorizes the county board of park commissioners, with the sanction of the county board, to establish airplane landing and starting fields and erect a landing field.

The Jennings landing field is to be given Milwaukee county opportunity to establish such a field, and would be a step toward bringing mail service.

Badger State
Happenings

Madison.—John C. Spooner, former United States senator from Wisconsin, died at his home in New York after illness of several weeks. He suffered a rupture after having partially recovered from a nervous breakdown. Because of his age, 76, his family feared for his life when he was first stricken. Mr. Spooner served as senator sixteen years, and retired in 1907, two years before completing his last term, to re-enter the practice of law. John Colt Spooner, born at Lawrenceburg, Ind., Jan. 6, 1843, the son of Philip Loring and Lydia (Cott) Spooner, was of Puritan ancestry on both sides of his family. Coming to Wisconsin from Indiana in June, 1859, the senator's family settled in Madison and the son received his education in the Madison schools and the University of Wisconsin. In 1864 the future senator raised a company of university students in response to President Lincoln's appeal for volunteers, but although entitled to a commission in the company, he chose to enlist as private in Company D of the First Wisconsin Infantry, largely composed of university students and professors. He was brevetted major in 1865 at the age of 22, and was mustered out the following year. In 1867 he was admitted to the bar, having meanwhile been appointed private and military secretary to Gov. Lucius Fairchild, with the usual rank of colonel, by which he was known in later years before arriving at senatorial dignity. He was guardian of the estate of Wisconsin, 1868-70, and assistant attorney general for two terms under Attorney General Charles R. Gill and Attorney General S. S. Barlow.

Madison.—Sept. 20 will be the opening day of the academic year 1919-1920 at the University of Wisconsin, according to action taken by the faculty. Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1 will be registration days. Classes will begin Oct. 2. Christmas recess will begin Tuesday, December 23, and extend to Monday morning, Jan. 5. Examination for entrance will be held on Sept. 20, instead of Sept. 22, as previously announced.

Wausau.—A contract has been given Carl Hilbert to grade and surface eight miles of road on federal route No. 10 from Mosinee south to the Portage county line. No satisfactory bids were received from shillier work on route No. 10 and the county will do the work with day labor. A contract is soon to be let for a concrete road to connect Wausau with the village of Schofield and Rothschild.

Manitowish.—Corp. Frank Swelkar, after having been in hospitals in France and this country since Sept. 29, when he was laid low by a shrapnel shell and suffered ten wounds, one being a compound fracture of the left leg, and the loss of a couple of toes, has arrived home on crutches. He is at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Swelkar. Corp. Swelkar is to report back for further treatment.

Oconto.—Pins have been completed for the honor day celebration for the army and navy men of Oconto county here June 23 and 24. Oconto celebrates having been a city for fifty years. County Agent Anderson, in charge of the parade says it will be one of the big features, depicting the leading episodes in the history of the city and county. Gen. C. R. Boardman will speak.

Racine.—After taking all the money and jewelry that Herman Bugge had when they stopped him, two robbers compelled him to remove his outer clothing and shoes. Those were identified in the possession of two men arrested at Corlies, giving the names of Thomas Finnegan, Buffalo, and Henry Klingel, Toledo. They said they were recently discharged from the navy.

Wausau.—The Marathon Shoe Co. increased the capital stock from $125,000 to $250,000 and let a contract for a 50x150 foot addition to its factory. The company started with a few employees in a public school annex, but is steadily employing 125 people and will double the employees and output when the addition is completed on Aug. 15.

Monroe.—Albert Stauss, editor of the Monroe Herald, has named the new building, named a building company, to undertake the immediate erection of thirty homes to relieve the house shortage. The company is to be capitalized at $50,000.

Stevens Point.—John W. Brown of this city has been elected great commander of the Maccabees' order of Wisconsin for the ninth time. He was chosen after twenty-four years of continuous service.

Kenosha.—Max Menzel is certainly a persevering sort of a fellow. Mr. Menzel, senior member of the Menzel & Horstmann meat market, whose license to sell meats was revoked by the health department, applied to that board for the position of meat inspector.

Monona.—The latest addition to this city's list of industries is a large brick works to be erected by Messrs. Bruce and Hess. The plant will be in operation by Oct. 1.

Baraboo.—All buildings and contents of the Great Northern Nursery owned by H. E. Foley, located here with three houses, were destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $30,000 with insurance of about $5,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Watertown.—Provisions of the will of Mrs. Caroline Strauss were set aside by Judge Kirkland and all but one-eighth of an estate of about $3,000, left to aliens residing in Germany, is to be given to the custodian of alien property.

Monroe.—A griststone upon which Henry E. Stauss was grinding a stone, burst, and Mr. Stauss was now at the Deaconess hospital with a broken arm and bruises about the body. A piece of the stone tore its way through the floor of the barn loft.

Stevens Point.—A. J. Charlesworth was killed by a train at Kilbourn. After attending the state Maccabees' convention at Madison he left for Kilbourn to visit his daughter. The accident occurred as he stepped from the train.

Marquette.—Gen. Joshua Hodgins, quartermaster general of Wisconsin for ten years and chief of the Marquette fire department, passed away unexpectedly at his home here, at the age of 63 years. He had been ill for some time with heart disease, but had been feeling unusually well and cheerful on the day of his death. Gen. Hodgins was born in Kinross, Canada, in 1856 and came to Wisconsin with his parents in the late sixties. He was educated in the public schools of Appleton, and later attended Milton college at Milton Junction. He came to Marquette in 1873 and engaged in the hardware business. He was a member of the Marquette fire department for more than 40 years and was chief for nearly 20 years.

Madison.—A circular in the State Historical library issued during 1919, describing the attractive views of Dane county lands, seems to be a genuine record of current prices. After praising the lands that could be bought from the government at $125 per acre, the report concludes: "Madison is the only town, and is a delightful situation. It contains two stores, three public houses, three groceries, one steam mill, and in all, thirty-five buildings. Prices the past season have ranged as follows: Corn, per bushel, $1.25; oats, 75c; potatoes $1 per bushel; butter, 37½ to 62½ cents; eggs, 37½ cents per dozen; pork and beef, from 7 to 12 cents per pound."

Janesville.—Definite arrangements for the establishment of a public health dispensary at Janesville have been completed and it is expected to be opened within thirty days. Final action was taken at a meeting of medical men of the city, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, city council, Rotary club, Red Cross and Woman's club. They voted unanimously in favor of Dr. M. A. Cunningham's motion that it go on record in favor of establishing a dispensary.

Elkhorn.—Walworth county is going forward with a large road building program this fall. Two stretches of county roads are now in process of construction and two more have been contracted for. Five day labor gangs are constructing gravel roads on the state trunk system, or repaving built roads previously built. Proposed changes in the highway law may give Walworth county an additional fifty miles of state trunk highway.

Superior.—Stabbed one-sixteenth of an inch below the heart, George P. Welsh, cook on the Gopher limited of Great Northern railway, was reported to have a fair chance of recovery, although physicians in charge of his case had not expected him to survive. Welsh is said to have been stabbed by a colored yaller on the train, following a disagreement.

Madison.—The proposed increase in coal freight rates of about $2,000,000 annually, which was about to be ordered by the director of the railroads, will not go into effect until ordered by the interstate commerce commission, according to information received by Carl D. Jackson, chairman of the Wisconsin railroad commission.

Kenosha.—While widening the Somers road near the Smith farm recently, workmen uncovered three skeletons. The graves were about three feet deep. It is not recalled by old residents that a graveyard was ever there, and it is probable that the graves mark the location of an Indian burying ground.

Two Rivers.—The Two Rivers Home Builders' association, capitalized at $200,000, will help solve the housing problem here. A hundred new homes will be built this summer. The association, George Manufacturing Co., Hamilton Manufacturing Co. and the Eggers Veneer Co. are the principal stockholders.

Stevens Point.—Two attempts to wreck Soo line trains near this city by placing a pile of ties on the tracks failed. The ties were first discovered by the crew of a freight train. One and one-half hours later, when the south bound passenger came along the right of way was again blocked.

La Crosse.—Dr. Gregor Smedal, 44, widely known surgeon, died at his home here of pneumonia. He was a native of Telemark, Norway, and a former officer in the Norwegian army. He was a graduate of the University of Christiania and of Rush Medical college, Chicago.

Menasha.—The Menasha Chamber of Commerce organized a building company, to undertake the immediate erection of thirty homes to relieve the house shortage. The company is to be capitalized at $50,000.

Stevens Point.—John W. Brown of this city has been elected great commander of the Maccabees' order of Wisconsin for the ninth time. He was chosen after twenty-four years of continuous service.

Kenosha.—Max Menzel is certainly a persevering sort of a fellow. Mr. Menzel, senior member of the Menzel & Horstmann meat market, whose license to sell meats was revoked by the health department, applied to that board for the position of meat inspector.

Monona.—The latest addition to this city's list of industries is a large brick works to be erected by Messrs. Bruce and Hess. The plant will be in operation by Oct. 1.

Baraboo.—All buildings and contents of the Great Northern Nursery owned by H. E. Foley, located here with three houses, were destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $30,000 with insurance of about $5,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Watertown.—Provisions of the will of Mrs. Caroline Strauss were set aside by Judge Kirkland and all but one-eighth of an estate of about $3,000, left to aliens residing in Germany, is to be given to the custodian of alien property.

Monroe.—A griststone upon which Henry E. Stauss was grinding a stone, burst, and Mr. Stauss was now at the Deaconess hospital with a broken arm and bruises about the body. A piece of the stone tore its way through the floor of the barn loft.

Stevens Point.—A. J. Charlesworth was killed by a train at Kilbourn. After attending the state Maccabees' convention at Madison he left for Kilbourn to visit his daughter. The accident occurred as he stepped from the train.

"WILD BILL" DONOVAN CLAIMS HE WAS ONE TO BRING OUT TY RAYMOND COBB

Ty Cobb, Hughie Jennings and "Wild Bill" Donovan.

When you are in a little group of fans and the talk is flitting away almost to a dead silence a good way to knock them all cold is to loudly announce: "I discovered Ty Cobb," or "I hadn't heard for me Eddie Collins would be selling him sandwiches on the B. & O." But anyway, Wild Bill Donovan came out with the announcement that he was the real Madison who gave Ty Cobb to the baseball world. Harken to Willym:

Made Jennings Laugh.

"It was very back in 1915 when Detroit was trading in Augusta, Ga., and the captain was a regular busher. Ty attracted little attention, for he was a terrible felder and tried to run through the fence in every game. Hughie Jennings used to laugh every time Cobb ran out on the field, for there was nothing about him that even suggested a future star. His hitting was of the bush league variety, and when an outfielder didn't hit it's time to forget all about him."

"Detroit had a chance that year to get Cobb for nothing, for the Augusta club had made a deal with Jennings whereby he would have the privilege of selecting any player on the team if his ball club did his spring training in Augusta. To show what a hit Cobb made, Clyde Engle, the infielder, was chosen and Tyrus the Great allowed to remain in the big grass."

Never Forgot Cobb.

"I never forgot Cobb," said Donovan, "for one day when I was pitching he hit a ball to me and I had to run toward third base to field it. It wasn't a hard-hit ball, so I took my time, but before I could straighten up to throw to first you can imagine my surprise when I saw that bushier roosting on the bag. Never before had I seen such speedily traveling toward first base, and I remembered it."

"Later in the season one of our outfielders went bad and I suggested to Jennings that he take a chance with that fast guy down in Augusta. Jennings wired down there and a reply came back that Cobb would not be sent North unless the Detroit club purchased him for $750. President Navin sent them the money and Cobb was signed by Detroit."

"The first year, as you know, Ty did not set the world afire, but barely got by. There was a noticeable improvement the next season, and now look at him. At the same time, I attribute the speedy journey to first base that day in Augusta to Cobb's joining the Detroit club."

Ban Johnson has not issued a statement in weeks.

Columbus has released Outfielder Chick Farrell to Terre Haute of the Three I.

Gloucester released Infielder Cranston and he was at once taken by San Antonio.

King Lear is to be retained by the Cubs, now that the club is allowed 25 players.

Bobby Stow having returned to the Fort Worth team, Manager Jakey Atz has benched Bushier.

The Browns fished the first triple steal in the majors this year. Slater, Williams and Donnell were the bargainers.

Newkirk, the Birmingham pitcher, hailed as a wonder from the Pacific coast, lasted one inning in his first game.

Bardlen is doing great work behind the bat for Pat Moran. McGraw may be sorry he let him go before the season is over.

Not many managers have declared their clubs in so potent winners yet. The war has worked more reform than one.

High, center felder for the Evansville Three-Rye team, was the only man in the league to get three hits on the opening day.

Grover Alexander's picture shows a 90-pound pack on his sturdy back. They don't issue packs in the Shipbuilders' league.

Billy Evans says a batter cannot take his base on a balk. We've seen some pitchers who could barely make first on four balls.

Manager Patsy Flaherty of the Colonels has a new pitcher by the name of Friday, who has been dubbed "Fish" by his teammates.

Shortstop Jack Nafziger, released by Houston and who was to join Beaumont, has transferred his services to Terre Haute in the Three I.

Earl Howard pitches good but losing ball for Milwaukee.

Clyde Defate, who was crowded off the St. Paul team by the signing of Claude Davidson, is now with the Sioux City club in the Western league.

Shortstop Harry Daubert, after being reported signed by several clubs this spring, caught on with New Orleans.

Eddie Almsmith is hitting like Ty Cobb these days because he copies Ty's style. Funny, with Ty in the league all these years, Almsmith couldn't have seen him before.

A spectacular feature of Tulsa's opening game was a home run by Hewitt with the bases full, scoring all Tulsa's runs. That's what is called a pitcher whiffing his own game.

Pitcher Walter Gresh, the Chicago semipro who was tried out by the Peoria in the spring training, has been signed by the Peoria Three I league club.

Des Moines has a new pitcher named Dinmick, who comes on the recommendation of Manager Charlie Graham of the San Francisco Seals.

Tod Miller, the husky from the navy who tried out with the Giants and was supposed to go to St. Paul, has landed with St. Joseph.

The veteran Charley O'Leary, having failed to catch on as manager of a minor league team, has signed to lead the Gunthers, a Chicago independent team.

Re-signed as Manager.

Clyde Wares, "released" by Oakland as a player, was re-signed as business manager of the club and coach of the team.

WINNING HURLER IS PENNANT CONTENDER

So Declares John McGraw, Manager of New York Giants.

Hugo Bezdek, Leader of Pirates, Declares Club Must Have More Than One Winning Pitcher—Problem Open for Discussion.

Baseball managers do not lamp the possibilities of a ball club in the same manner. At the January pow-wow in New York, some of the major league pilots were discussing pennants and pennant chances. John McGraw of New York started a live discussion when he declared one winning pitcher can make a big contender out of an otherwise mediocre club. McGraw's views were shared by some of the leaders but Hugo Bezdek of the Pittsburgh Pirates does not accept the McGraw dogma.

McGraw pointed to the success of the Giants when he had none other than Matthewson to depend upon for mound duty. He also recalled the Bezdek declared a ball club must have something more than good pitching from one pitcher, and he backed his argument with the story of Wilbur Cooper's work for the Pirates last season. Cooper lost nearly all of his games by one run simply because the Pirates did not have the necessary punch to aid him with a run or two, says Bezdek, and the speech sounds reasonable, too.

The argument was not ended in the one session, but there is much evidence on both sides that is deserving of serious consideration. McGraw's

Washington club's success each season for the last few years on which Walter Johnson to star on the rubber. These cases, according to McGraw, are good grounds for his argument.

Job Insurance

Sickness or the loss of a job has few terrors for the man who spends just a little less than he earns and puts that little into an interest-bearing savings account.

And it only takes a little. Those nickels, dimes and quarters that daily slip through your fingers will, if saved, soon provide an emergency fund that will take good care of you in time of want.

Every person should have such a fund. Every sensible person DOES have one.

FORD ANNOUNCES NEW TRACTOR PRICES

—Henry Ford & Son at Dearborn, Michigan, closed their factory some time ago in order to make changes which would allow them to increase their production up to a point where they could more nearly supply the demand for Fordson Tractors which has been coming to them from all parts of the world for the past year.
The plant up to the present has been run on a war basis proposition and at no time was it able to turn out the enormous quantity of machines demanded and in order to put in the most up-to-date methods of manufacturing and assembling, it was necessary to stop production for a short period.

During the shut-down, modern ways of manufacturing material and quicker and more efficient methods of assembling have been effected, and for the past two weeks the factory has run at a small capacity in order to test out the different assembling ways and to make sure everything is operating smoothly and according to schedule.

It is now hoped that with the increased capacity and the present lineup at the Fordson factory at Dearborn, which has grown to a wonderful size in one year's time and where they have manufactured during the last year more than fifty thousand tractors, that dealers throughout the country will be more nearly able to supply the demand.

The new price of $750.00 that has just been announced by Henry Ford & Son is made possible by the rearrangement of the factory which allows them to get into a great deal larger production daily. That the Fordson Tractor has proven a success, far beyond the fondest expectations of even the builders, is shown by the fact that nearly 80% of all the tractors sold in the past year to farmers are Fordson tractors. Its light weight and economical operation no doubt has played a small part in the wonderful popularity the little Fordson enjoys. Shipments of tractors have already begun from the factory and very soon dealers in all localities will again be able to fill orders.

When they are engaged to build what they think is a bird. And after they have been married a while he remembers that the crow is a bird.

During the next few weeks
this office will contain copies of letters written by boys and girls, telling how they earned money to add to their Savings Accounts in this bank.

NURSE PUT LINCOLN COUNTY ON THE MAP

The Merrill Herald has the following to say regarding their County Nurse, Miss Theda Mead, who is well known here having addressed the County Board at their last session. As all the counties of the state probably are required to have a nurse within the next few years, it is well for the people to be familiar with the results that are obtained in other counties with a nurse. The Herald article follows:

"The following letter has just been received by A. T. Curtis, who until recently, as chairman of the county board, has been chairman of the County Nurse Committee. Coming from Dr. Dearholt, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, by is a tribute to Lincoln county and its nurse worth while. Mr. Curtis advises The Herald that Geo. Gibson is the father of county nurse work in this county and caused to special credit in putting Lincoln county in the front in this work. The letter is as follows:

"June 11, 1919
"Dear Mr. Curtis: "Word has reached us of the recent action of the Lincoln county board in voting to give Miss Mead an assistant and also in taking steps toward providing hospital facilities. I want to take this opportunity, therefore, to do what I have had in mind many times in the past, but which I have not been able to do for other things to crowd into the background. With apologies for having neglected it so long, I wish to try to convey to you, and through you to the other members of the Lincoln county board and especially of the committee which has direct supervision of Miss Mead's work, a little of our appreciation of your splendid spirit and of the big and vital work which Miss Mead has been enabled to do through the combination of her own fine ability and the equally fine backing which her committee has given her.

"I doubt if you realize how far-reaching the influence of that work has been. Indeed, I doubt if its full can be estimated. Of this much I am sure, however. The large vision which your committee has shown in sending Miss Mead to represent Lincoln county and its health work at state and national meetings and in loaning her to other communities to give them the benefit of her practical experience has placed Lincoln county in a place of leadership of which it has a right to be extremely proud. To men who had the keen business judgment to take this attitude, I do not need to dwell on the wisdom of this course or on the wisdom of the extent to which Lincoln county has profited in the work which Miss Mead does day by day making it possible for progress which is constantly being made in health work and to get the inspiration and the new ideas which come from meeting with leaders in this work. Only wish it were possible to make every man, woman and child in Lincoln county realize how ably you have represented their best interests by securing the best possible personal equipment for her work.

"From the purely self-interest point of view, that of getting the best possible service for money expended, and from larger standpoint of service to state and nation, Lincoln county is to be congratulated on the record which the public-spirited attitude of its supervisors and its fortunate selection of a nurse of unusual qualifications have a right to know how large a contribution it has made to the state, for in being one of the pioneer counties to provide health protection for its own people, Lincoln county has served in a way as a pioneer. Its experience has been a model to be followed by other counties. In the campaign to give every county in the state similar service and I doubt if any single argument has been as effective as this continuing as the testimony given by Miss Mead and the results of her every day work. Nor has this leadership been confined to Wisconsin, for the national attention which is being given rural conditions at the present time the eyes of workers in many other states have been turned toward Lincoln county. Proof of this is given in the number of reports of the story 'King Theda Mead, Please,' appearing in The Farmers Wife last spring, which we have sent into other states in response to requests for information on county public health nursing.

"One word more, because we believe that these are facts which the people of Lincoln county have a right to know and because we appreciate that one of the best and surest ways of informing them is through the press, we are sending copies of this letter to our editor friends who have done so much to further the health campaign in Lincoln county.

"This letter is more than a personal expression. It comes from the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, and is the representative of the people of Wisconsin who by their voluntary support each year contribute to the protection of their health interests. It is in their behalf that I and the association whose servant I am express deep appreciation of what Lincoln county has done and is continuing to do.

Sincerely yours,
Roy E. Dearholt.

WOOD CO. MEN INCLUDED

Marshall Herald.—A big land deal in which several well known men of this city, is now awaiting consummation as regards title and contract. The Wisconsin-Louisiana Land Company to which Hon. J. C. Marsh, Dr. K. W. Dodge and M. J. Fleckenstein of this city, Edward Rayburn of Spencer, Senator Kukuk of Shawano, F. Thompson of Port Washington and the Cornelius Estate of Neillsville, are members, own a tract of 7,299 acres of land in Louisiana, purchased ten or twelve years ago. At this time a syndicate of capitalists in the state where the land is situated, through their representative, made an offer for the property which was accepted. The syndicate has continued for 1,200 acres of cucumbers, 55 acres more than last year and up to the present where the worms have not molested them, give promise of a bumper crop. The last years crop amounted to 90,000 bushels.

CUT WORMS TROUBLE SOME

Marshall Herald.—Mike Michels of Bakerville, was in the city Monday and like many other farmers in this section is a sufferer on account of cut worms which he says destroyed four acres of corn for him. He will replant. Pickle raisers are also complaining about the ravages of these pests. The local pickle factory has continued for 1,200 acres of cucumbers, 55 acres more than last year and up to the present where the worms have not molested them, give promise of a bumper crop. The last years crop amounted to 90,000 bushels.

NATIONAL WEEKLY APPEALS FOR HIGHER TEACHER PAY

It is strange that the generous-hearted American people, who poured out their riches so prodigally in response to every patriotic, every charitable appeal, and who are so ready to contribute to every measure and to every group that helped win the war, should have neglected the service of one of the noblest professions in the field of human activities—a profession that in lofty ideals, in unselfish principles in sacred responsibilities stands side by side with the ministry of the Gospel itself.

We wish to bespeak, with what power and authority we may have and with such words as may be granted to us, some measure of consideration for the foster-fathers and mothers of our children—the school-teachers of the United States of America.

There is no class of workers of which we demand so much. We come into their keeping the minds of the bodies and the very souls of our children in the tender and formative years of their lives and they, receiving these children, can indeed be said to hold in the hollow of their hands the future of America.

We wish to bespeak, with what power and authority we may have and with such words as may be granted to us, some measure of consideration for the foster-fathers and mothers of our children—the school-teachers of the United States of America.

No class has assumed so heavy, so trying a burden and a responsibility with such willingness as these consecrated men and women. No class has performed their increasing duties more devotedly, more conscientiously and with less thought of self. No class served their country more whole-heartedly, more loyally, during the trying and tempestuous years of the war, day by day helping the young people, and through the children the parents, to see the struggle in its true light thus giving the cooperation of the community in every measure undertaken by the Government to win the war.

Truly they have made the nation their own. Truly they have not done their work so well this republic would not outlast the span of a generation.

What then have the teachers received at our hands in return? They have received little of honor, and somewhat less of pay. Other classes through powerful organizations have secured generous wages. The teachers have no spokesmen, however, to demand even the simple justice of a living wage, so to them we give their petty prewar platitude, no wages, so they are left to their own devices upon this nation.

The men and women who are making the American of today are being treated with less consideration than the janitors who sweep out the buildings in which they are employed; they are earning on the average, less than the wages given to the scrubmen employed in the public buildings of the United States Government. Normal-school graduates receive less salary than street-sweepers, high-school principals and superintendents less than section foremen; country school teachers less for instructing the farmers' children than he pays his hired men to feed his hogs.

No wonder there are fifty thousand vacancies in the teaching forces of the schools. No wonder the ranks of the unemployed are filled with men and women with the education of a high school graduate, who have had no professional education whatever.

When we consider that the 740,000 teachers of America are paid an average of $820 a year; when, moreover, we consider the fact that living costs have actually advanced 103 percent, since the beginning of the war, thereby cutting the buying power of these insignificant salaries in half, we can easily determine that only a fool or a martyr would choose teaching as a profession, or would long remain in it, unless these terrible conditions were swiftly remedied.

Never has there been a more urgent need for high-minded, great-hearted, splendidly trained, 100 percent American instructors to drive home the vital lessons that these times hold. Never has the future of the nation been so clearly committed into the hands of the teachers. And yet thousands of men and women of ability who would prefer to teach are reluctantly leaving their classrooms, forced by the hard necessities of their very existence.

The teachers ask no largess at the hands of fortune. They enter their profession for service, not riches. But they invest years and money in preparation for their life-work and the knowledge they gain is shared with others who themselves use it to their own profit. When they are paid, they are justly entitled to a return that will permit them and their dependents to live decently and in comfort.—Literary Digest.

MONEY LOST EIGHTEEN YEARS WAS RETURNED

Rhineland New North.—Eighteen years ago while shopping in this city, Mrs. Charles Morrill lost a check for $210 containing fifteen dollars. The purse evidently became unstuffed from its clasp and Mrs. Morrill did not learn of her loss until arriving home. She made an effort to recover the purse, but without success and, adhering to the old adage, "no use weeping over spilled milk," gradually forgot the incident.

A few days ago the postman brought to the Morrill home an envelope addressed to Mrs. Morrill containing three five dollar bills stuffed to the floor. Puzzled over this shower of unexpected wealth she explored the envelope and found a brief note which explained that eighteen years ago the writer had picked up the purse lost by Mrs. Morrill, and being in need at the time had kept the money for necessities. Now being in fairly comfortable circumstances the writer desired to return the sum to Mrs. Morrill with many thanks. The note was unsigned and Mrs. Morrill has not the slightest idea as to its source. "That's money I never expected to see again," said Mrs. Morrill, and to receive it after all those years is just like finding it. It certainly is one of the biggest surprises of my life.

And the man who goes to church because his wife makes him go never hears much of a sermon.

MERCHANTS ARE PUZZLED ON FIREWORKS QUESTION

Local merchants and dealers are puzzled as to just where they stand on the fireworks question. The State Industrial Commission, having issued some rather stringent laws regarding the sale of fireworks, after the local merchants had laid in their supply for the year. The result is that the local dealers have their annual supply of fire crackers, roman candles, and other forms of disturbance on hand and are trying to comply with the law and at the same time protect themselves from a heavy loss as the result of their purchase.

The order the State Industrial Commission has issued regarding the sale of fireworks is as follows: "No person shall sell or keep for sale or manufacture, or bring into this state for use therein, any sky-rockets, fireworks or firecrackers, containing picric acid, picrates, chlorate of potash compound, dynamite, mixture of dynamite and other high explosive compound or any of the foregoing or other high explosive mixtures, explosive canes using blank cartridges or explosive paper caps, and 5.00 o'clock, p. m. a three course dinner was served to relatives of both parties only. In the evening a dance was given in the hall to their many friends.

Miss Morrill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrill of Vesper, and who has for two years been our good accommodating and college central girl of the Vesper office. And we know she will be a good and faithful helpmate to Mr. Adams.

Mr. Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Adamant Vesper and is a steady and steady young man of good traits and will be a good husband to Miss Morrill.

This paper joins in the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Adams in wishing them a long and happy wedded life with a full measure of sunshine. The young couple will reside in this village.

Many of the local merchants have avoided the ordering of fireworks this year, and are handing only the sparklers, and other forms which are not included under the state law. Others who have ordered are storing the fireworks in their back rooms, and are selling them through the store, although the explosives are not handled in the building.

As a general thing the law does not seem to be a very popular one in the community and the general impression is that if the size of the fireworks is small, they are not dangerous for the youngsters to handle, a good deal of enjoyment accompanies their use for the kids and it is a little strict in denying their use.

TO HAVE GOOD ROAD FROM WAUSAU TO STEVENS POINT

Stevens Point Journal.—The Stevens Point-Wausau road—a part of the great federal trunk line system—will be improved this season.

Falling to receive a satisfactory bid for doing the work, the federal and state highway authorities authorized T. E. Cauley, county highway commissioner, to tackle the job, and Mr. Cauley is getting things squared away for the start.

A cook shanty, sleeping shanty for twenty-five men and barn for 10 teams are now being erected near Stevens Point. The work is being done by the Stevens Point-Wausau road. The road will be improved with gravel, 15 feet in width. It is anticipated that there will be sufficient money available to building about six miles of good road, from Marathon county line to the end of the present improved road in the town of Hull. No work can be done on that part of the road in the city limits this year, although badly needed.

Commissioner Cauley is planning to actively begin operations about the middle of next week. The job is by far the biggest single piece of road construction ever before attempted in the county and it is not expected that it will be finished before fall. It will include from 20 to 25 culverts and much grading.

"As Marathon county has let a contract for improvement of eight miles of road between Wausau and the Portage County line, the end of the present season will see excellent highway connections over practically all of the distance between Stevens Point and Wausau. Marathon county will build 10 or 12 miles of new road on this route.

Too Bad He Hurt Her Feelings

(Philadelphia Telegraph)

A hobo knocked on the back door of a suburban home, which was opened by a large, muscular, hard-faced woman.

"Get out of here, you miserable tramp!" exclaimed the woman in a screeching voice, at the first sight of the hobo. "If you don't march straight for that back gate I will call my husband!"

"I guess not," was the calm response of the tramp. "He ain't home."

"Is that so, Mr. Tramp?" was the scornful rejoinder of the large lady. "How do you know he isn't home?"

"Because," grinned the hobo, backing toward the aforesaid gate, "when a married woman like you he is home only at meal time."

Well Earned
The members of the missionary society had assembled to talk of the difficulties of the difficult and amusing experiences in earning, each her dollar.

"Sister Lamm, how did you earn your dollar?" asked Mrs. Lamm.

"No," asked Mrs. Lamm. "Then you don't know my husband."

VESEPER YOUNG PEOPLE WERE WED LAST WEEK

Vesper State Center.—On Wednesday morning at the Catholic church in this village occurred one of the prettiest weddings of two of our young people of this village, namely Miss Florence Morrill to Ed. Adams.

The church was packed with the many friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Adams and as the clock showed the hour of 9:30 they were bound in holy matrimony.

The bride was beautifully dressed in georgette over satin and carried a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The bridesmaid was clad in conventional dark blue serge. The bridesmaids were Misses Louis Morrill and Pauline Adams and were dressed in light blue. The best men were Henry Adams and Joe Pynch who were dressed in formal blue.

Immediately after the ceremony the party adjourned to the John Morrill home where a dainty breakfast was served to the relatives of both parties only. At noon or there about the happy couple, with their attendants motored to Grand Rapids where at a photographer they had their wedding photos taken, after which they returned to this village, and at 5:00 o'clock, p. m. a three course dinner was served to relatives of both parties only. In the evening a dance was given in the hall to their many friends.

NEWS-PAPER MEN TO MEET IN MOSINEE JULY 25th

Mosinee Times.—The Central Wisconsin Press Association, comprising the newspaper publishers in Marathon and the seven adjoining counties, will hold the sixth annual summer outing and business session of the association at this place on Friday, July 25th. Officers of the association are now at work outlining the program for the occasion and it is expected that this will be announced within a week or so. The summer meeting of the association is more in the nature of a social outing than of a business nature, yet the publishers never lose an opportunity to "talk shop" for a while when they get together. An effort will be made to secure a publisher of national reputation for an address at the evening meeting.

BATTLESHIP WISCONSIN TO BE JUNKED AS OBSOLETE

The battleship Wisconsin is among eight fighting battleships of the dreadnought class ordered stricken from the navy active list and will soon be consigned to the junk pile. The other ships are the Kentucky, Kentucky, Illinois, Alabama, Maine, Missouri and Ohio. Four of America's first "mixed battery" battleships have already been stricken from the navy list. They are the Oregon, Massachusetts, Indiana and Iowa of Admiral Sampson's fleet during the engagement resulted in sinking the Spanish fleet of Santiago de Cuba, July 3, 1898. The Wisconsin's first long cruise was down the Pacific coast to Columbia during the first cruise in that country in the fall of 1902.

Pittsfield Record.—Two Babcock families, those of James McGlynn and Dave Wing, are in far-off Alaska where they are seeking the yellow metal that everyone is after. Word came to a brother of Mr. McGlynn, at Babcock, reports that as having settled near Wrangell, Alaska, for the present, where they are enjoying the summer weather. A stranger reports that the weather is that in winter the thermometer does not get as low as it does in Wisconsin, as they are near the coast and get the benefit of the gulf stream.

"HOME"

The most cherished word in the English language is "HOME". For home indeed is the bulwark of our national unity. And now, more than at any time in America's history is its significance paramount.

It was the stimulus for America's remarkable achievement in the last two years. It was the inspiration for the noble deeds of our boys in France, for which they ask no greater reward than that they may forget the blight of war in the peace and joy of home.

"Own your own home" should be an American slogan.

Put this question to your family tonight—
"Shall we build a home?" and take a vote. It will be carried unanimously.

NEKOOSA GIRL MARRIED

Nekoosa Tribune—Mary, seven-year old daughter of Mrs. R. White, was married to Mr. George Solchenberger of Dorchester, Wis., at the family home, Market St., at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon, June 10, Rev. C. A. O'Neill officiating.

The bride was dressed in a pretty white satin and crepe de chene gown and carried a shower bouquet. Following the ceremony a 2 o'clock dinner was served to a number of relatives and the bridal party. The room and table were very prettily decorated with pansies, roses and other flowers and ferns.

Miss Frances Solchenberger, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Will Raywall was best man.

The young people will make their home at Dorchester, Wis., after a short wedding trip.

The groom was born and lived in the Armenia district until a few years ago when he moved to Dorchester, with his parents. He is well and favorably known hereabouts. The bride has hosts of friends in town and takes the well wishes of every one of them to her new home.

Out of town guests were Miss Frances Solchenberger of Dorchester, Wis., and Ray Cook of Yellum, Wash.

INCREASE IN CANCER DEATH

Cancer has taken rank, as one of the chief causes of death in the state, with 1,893 deaths in 1918, and an average of 1,891 a year in the records of vital statistics. The annual mortality in the United States is estimated at 80,000, compared with 150,000 for pulmonary tuberculosis. While the "great white plague" prevails at all ages, cancer is essentially a disease of adult life. At ages over 40 cancer causes one death out of every eight among women and one out of every fourteen among men.

Eighty-five per cent of all cancer death occur at ages of 45 and over. The disease is on the increase in every civilized country.

BROUGHT BINOCULARS BACK AFTER YEAR AND ONE HALF

Black River Falls Journal—Early in the war, the federal government sent out an appeal for binocular field glasses for use in the army and navy. These instruments had been manufactured mainly in Europe so that when the war in Europe started, the rest of the world was shut off from the source of supply, and our own government was without sufficient number for army and navy officers, to whom they were very essential in war time. Among those who promptly responded by forwarding the glasses was Dr. E. Krohn, who sent binoculars which he had himself purchased in Germany a number of years before, paying $80 for them. He was given a receipt and a U. S. Treasury check for one dollar with the assurance that if the glasses were lost or destroyed, the $1 check was to be all the pay he could expect, and if they were not lost, or destroyed, and they would be returned to him when the war was over. But looking for the return of a pair of field glasses after eighteen months of war looked like so impossible a proposition that the doctor counted his set as a contribution toward Victory and let it go at that. Last week his binoculars came back by parcel post as good as when he sent them in, they were on the day he sent them in, and with them a neatly engraved certificate from the War department, acknowledging his kindness and patriotism in loaning the glasses to the government. With all the details of the war time organization, it would seem difficult to perfect things so that even a pair of field glasses could be returned to the owner after having been in use in the conflict for so long a time, but the organization was perfect enough to do it. It is easy to find fault with many things the government may fail to do, but when it is considered how much it has done and is doing and is doing so well, some of our fault finding might readily be discounted.

HOLSTEIN BROTHERS BIG PRICE AT NEW YORK SALE

Who can say that it does not pay to breed good Holstein cattle when they sell for enormous, yes almost fabulous prices? At the recent dispersal sale of Oliver Cabana's at Elms Center, New York, the following prices were paid for registered Holsteins:

A young bull sold for $125,000, world's record price for a bull; one cow sold for $40,000, world's record price for a cow; $35,000 for another cow; $60,000 for a nine year old bull and the next day a one half interest was resold for $50,000; a yearling heifer brought $22,000 and a sixteen year old cow brought the nice little price of $10,000. 226 head brought a total of $754,270 or an average price of $3,300. This is the kind that makes the money. When starting in the breeding don't look for the cheapest, look for the best. This sale again demonstrates the superiority of the Holstein as a dairy breed.

LIGHTNING WAS FATAL

Almond Press—"A sad death occurred at the farm of Antone Okray in Buena Vista when his son, Henry Okray, a boy of 12 years, was struck by lightning and instantly killed together with a span of horses while the father was rendered unconscious and was paralyzed from his hips down.

The father and son were working at breaking in a field some distance from their home when the violent thunder shower of Tuesday afternoon came up. Seeing the storm was about to strike they unhitched the team from the plow and the boy started for the lunch pail and had gotten about forty feet from the team when the crash came that killed the boy and horses instantly and rendered Mr. Okray unconscious. When he came to some 20 minutes later he discovered his boy and horses dead and on attempting to rise and go to the boy he found that his limbs had been paralyzed.

"Other members of the family soon arrived on the scene and took the father and the body of the son to the home to be cared for. "Beside the mother and the father six brothers are left to mourn the loss of this 12 year old lad.

Misread his Hand?

A negro in one of the stevedore regiments at a base port in France, saw an officer approaching him while patrolling his beat on sentry duty, whereat he drew himself up stiffly and gave a flourishing salute, saying "Good Morning, General."

"Beg yo' pardon, Colonel," said the dandy.

"Excuse me again, Major," came back the dusky sentinel.

"Look here, man I'm only a Captain," was the officer's reply.

"Well, sah! I knew you wuz one of de face cards ob de pack, any way," said Rastus, with a condescending grin.—Prize story in Judge, by Corporal R. V. Bucher, Signal Corps, Somewhere in France.

The Thermometer Tells the Story

Evansville, Ind., April 23, 1917

Homer Furnace Co., Homer, Michigan

Dear Sir:—We have an eight-room house, four rooms down stairs and three and bath upstairs, with basement.

We encountered no difficulty in heating our home as per guarantee to 100° and more, even with the temperature at 14° below zero.

The entire house was comfortable, the temperature varying only a few degrees. It gives the proper moisture and the circulation of the air is perfect.

It is very economical in the consumption of fuel. We used 170 bushels of coal with some additional wood last winter for furnace and kitchen range included.

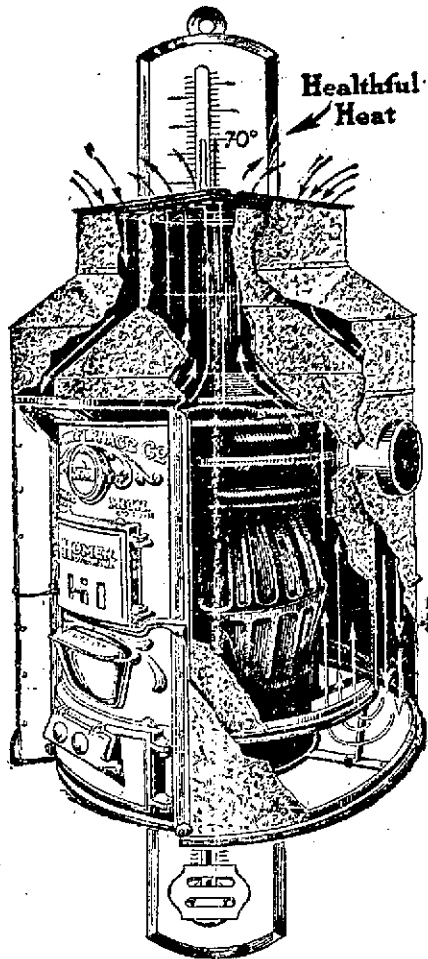

It produces practically no clavier, thereby getting all the heat out of the fuel, giving the consumer the full benefits of the same. It has done all you claim for it and more.

I unhesitatingly and cheerfully recommend the Homer Furnace to anyone who considers the question of heating by furnace.

Respectfully, Rev. C. H. SCHWETZKA
Pastor Salem M. E. Church.
R. F. D. No. 6, Evansville, Ind.

And the foregoing letter is only one of the many from 35,000 Homer owners.

The Famous
HOMER
ORIGINAL PATENTED
PIPELESS FURNACE
with the Thermo-Seal
Inner Lining

Strokel Iron
Every cast part in the Homer is made from Strokel iron—iron specially prepared to endure high temperatures. That's why we are also able to guarantee the lasting qualities of the Homer.

Homer heat is healthful heat. Whenever there is a fire in the furnace the Thermo-Seal Inner Lining (the steel and asbestos insulator between the chambers) insures a circulation of pure, moist warm air throughout the house.

The Homer can be installed in any house, old or new, in less than one day's time—only one hole to cut in your floor.

Ask this dealer for a copy of "Healthful Heat." It explains in detail the superior construction of the Homer, how it will heat and ventilate your home. Read the booklet today.

Homer Furnace Company, Homer, Mich.

We would enjoy sending you some printed matter on Pipeless Furnaces if you will drop us a postal card request.

Attention to Music Teachers

We have installed a complete new line of sheet music and Teachers Instruction Grades—Books and Sheet Music Grades from one to six. The music and grades incorporate the most complete line of this kind that has been carried in Grand Rapids and the music Teachers and others interested are urged to come in and look over the Grades.

After being unobtainable in the market for about two years, we have secured a new and complete line of Harmonicas and Mouth Organs, direct from one of the principal manufacturers of these instruments. The instruments are nicely made and have a rich deep quality of tone, combining the modern ideas of manufacture with the essentials perfected previous to the war. It is with pleasure that we are able to announce to our customers that we have this supply on hand now and invite you to inspect them.

Edison Diamond Disc, Edison Blue Amber and Pathe records are always obtainable at our new store. Latest popular numbers in addition to a complete line of standard band and orchestra arrangements.

Frank Sedall of the town of Sigel was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office Thursday having been in town on business. Mr. Sedall reports that his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sedall and two children, of Chicago, arrived the day previous and are visiting at his place. Mr. Sedall will spend some time out there while Mr. Sedall will return to the city Saturday. According to Mr. Sedall the crops are looking fine in Sigel and every evidence of a bumper year is seen.

Nekosha Tribune—G. Lavigne, who rode log and lumber rafts down the Wisconsin, picked cranberries and hunted around this territory long before anyone ever thought of putting a town here and who hasn't been here for twenty years dropped in on the town of Nekosha and says that he is going to make Nekosha his home. He says the progress of the town is wonderful.

Eldred G. MacDonald, who has been serving in the U. S. Marines for the past two years, returned home Tuesday from New York where he had been stationed for the past month. Eldred enlisted at Philadelphia and was stationed there for some time, later being transferred to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where he served until about a month ago.

Walter Stamm returned the first of the week from La Crosse where he had been called to enter the government hospital. At this place the doctors gave him a thorough examination and added a substantial increase in his government compensation. He will enter the university of Wisconsin summer course the twenty-fifth of this month, taking up chemical engineering, under the provision made by the government to wounded soldiers, sailors and marines. Captain Stamm was at the university before he entered the service and also go down at the end of the summer session.

The Thermometer Tells the Story

Healthful Heat

Homer Furnace Co., Homer, Ind., April 23, 1917

Dear Sir:—We have an eight-room house, four rooms down stairs and three and bath upstairs, with basement.

We encountered no difficulty in heating our home as per guarantee to 70° and more with the thermometer at the only a few degrees. It given the proper moisture and the circulation of the air is perfect.

It is very economical in the consumption of fuel. We used 170 pounds of coal with some additional wood last winter for furnace and kitchen ranges for fuel.

It produces no fumes, no odors, there's nothing at all out of the fuel giving the consumer the full benefit of the same. It has done all you claim for it and more.

I unhesitatingly and cheerfully recommend the Homer Furnace to anyone who considers the question of heating by furnace.

Respectfully, Ray Chas. J. Schwartz
R. F. D. No. 8, Evansville, Ind. Pastor Salim M. L. Church.

And the foregoing letter is only one of the many from 35,000 Homer owners.

The Famous HOMER ORIGINAL PATENTED PIPELESS FURNACE with the Thermo-Seal Inner Lining

Homer heat in healthful heat. Whenever there is a fire in the furnace the Thermo-Seal Inner Lining (the steel and asbestos insulator between the chambers) insures a circulation of pure, moist warm air throughout the house.

The Homer can be installed in any house, old or new, in less than one day's time—only one hole to cut in your floor.

Ask this dealer for a copy of "Healthful Heat." It explains in detail the superior construction of the Homer, how it will heat and ventilate your home. Read the booklet today.

MRS. CHAS. BRAHMSSTADT PASSED AWAY ON SUNDAY

Mrs. Charles Brahmsteadt, one of the pioneer residents of this part of the country passed away early Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Martin, following a short illness. Mrs. Brahmsteadt was seventy-nine years of age at the time of her death and had made her home in this community for the past fifty years.

Mrs. Brahmsteadt moved to Wood County with her husband in 1869, settling in the town of Grand Rapids, near Kellner, where they made their home for many years. Later, Mrs. Brahmsteadt moved to this city and during the past nine years she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. John Martin. During her life in the town of Grand Rapids and in this city Mrs. Brahmsteadt had a host of close friends who remain to mourn her passing.

Enjoying good health until the past winter, Mrs. Brahmsteadt was a woman of cheerful and kind disposition, devoting her life to aiding others. During the past winter she had suffered some illness but apparently recovered. However, a week ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis, weakening her to the extent where she could not resist the ravages of the attack.

She is survived by six children, the daughters being Mrs. Christ Meschke, of Hortonville, Wis., Miss Clara, of Madison, Wis., Miss John, of Greenfield, Wis., Mrs. John, of this city, and a son, Fred of this city.

The funeral was held Tuesday at 2 o'clock from the house with burial in the cemetery at Kellner, Rev. Tharow of this city performing the ceremony.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks for the many acts of kindness and remembrance of our beloved mother, we cherish the acts by you and feel grateful for your sympathy during our tribulation in our loss, also for the beautiful floral offerings.

IDEAL FARM LANDS

Minnesota Man at Last Found What He Sought.

After Long Search, the Wondrous Productiveness of Western Canada, Was Pointed Out, and He Is Going There.

He formed for a number of years near Winona, Minnesota, and as Mr. D. S. Marcy told it, he had done well. He had made sufficient money to see him and his wife through their remaining days.

"But there were the boys," said Mrs. Marcy, "and six of them, too—some of the six not yet back from overseas. Yes, we are proud of them," the fond mother said. "But, oh my, we had no girl," and she lamented that. "Why not settle them about you in your own neighborhood? You have good land there, splendid neighbors, and everything that might be desired."

"Yes, that is all true," replied this estimable body, "but the fact is, my high-priced wife couldn't afford to buy there, although worth every cent asked for it. You see we have six boys, and they are good ones, too."

So, one day, three years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Marcy rented the automobile for a touring trip. They wanted to investigate for the boys' benefit. The journey lasted for a year. It took them through Arizona with its varied scenery, its climate and agricultural attractions; into the canyons of Colorado; they went, and the agricultural possibilities there aroused a large amount of interest. Still undelighted, down into the valleys of California the automobile went. Fruit orchards were plentiful, grain fields were attractive, but the psychological time had not arrived. Reversing their way, they passed through Washington, Oregon and Montana and home. A year's journey and no results. "Oh, yes," Mr. Marcy said, "we had a delightful time, enjoyed it all but the day and night up in Colorado, when we were held up by a wonderful snowstorm; we and six others, thinking the snow embankment was safe, through safely, if a trifle inconvenient."

It was interesting to hear these people talk. Their previous trips showed that they had not lacked opportunities for observation. They could not find what they wanted for the boys. When he was between twenty and twenty-five years of age, Mr. Marcy pictured to himself the kind of a home he wanted. He reared a family of boys and had got to find such a place. His year's journey had been fruitless in that respect.

One day he decided to visit the West. He had friends there who had been well. He turned to the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. He saw the vast prairies, yielding their twenty and twenty-five, and as high as forty bushels of wheat, with enormous yields of other grains. The north central country, which afforded the grass and the shelter that made stock-raising a valuable adjunct to the growing of grain, was visited. Interviews were had with the settlers, many from his own home district, and all were satisfied.

Only the other day he arranged for the period for his visit to the West to be taken to the Alberta prairie he had purchased when on his visit. Mrs. Marcy goes with him, and the six boys will follow. He found the place he had pictured in his mind when he was twenty or twenty-five years old. "I was unable to find it until I made my Western Canada visit. I bought the farm, and I am satisfied. When I saw a carload of four-year-old steers brought into the Edmonton market, weighing 1,700 pounds, that had never been inside a building nor fed a bit of grain, I was glad I had made up my mind."—Advertiser.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the smooth curves of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their extreme thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to stunted nerves. The nerves need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known as Bitro-Phosphate, which is a potent, healthful and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body with the necessary phosphate food elements, Bitro-Phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unexcelled for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

HOUSEHOLDS of expert marksmen will be guests of the United States navy during August on the largest of the chain of rifle ranges constructed by the bluejackets during our war with Germany. Invited to be present were teams of the army, navy and marine corps as well as two delegations from every state and territory—one representing the National Guard unit and one the civilian rifleman. Transportation and subsistence expenses of the service teams and the teams designated to represent the states have always been paid by the United States government. Any other teams may attend by defraying their own expenses.

The intent of the government this year is to welcome at Caldwell representatives of all branches of American marksmanship. Trick shooting, however, will not be allowed. As the association puts it, "the marksmanship to be featured is the deadly deliberate shooting of the kind which left Belmont Wood and the Clontau Thibery wheat field covered with Hun dead."

The gathering of riflemen will be known as the National Matches of 1919, and is the latest of a long series of marksmanship competitions instituted in 1903 and held annually whenever possible for the purpose of stimulating rifle practice as a national sport; developing riflemen having the attainments required of instructors in rifle shooting during the war, and of restoring the United States to her rightful and traditional place as the preponderant nation of marksmanship.

The big matches will be held at Caldwell, N. J., "45 minutes from Broadway." According to details now being arranged by Lieutenant Colonel William C. Harlow, U. S. M. C., who is executive officer of the matches, rifles will begin to crack in competition as early as July 1, and the final "cannon firing" will not sound until before September 1. During the first part of this period practice matches and rifle competitions will be scheduled. These will be followed up by a period of instruction in marksmanship for the civilian teams who will participate in the national matches. After the school of instruction, a series of marksmanship competitions, which include some of the oldest and most historic of rifle contests, will be held by the National Rifle Association of America. These events will lead up to those American marksmanship classes which are called the National Matches. The National Matches, therefore, will probably be held toward the middle or end of August.

They consist of three competitions. The most important is the National Team Match. In this event teams of 12 shooting members are pitted against one another. Each team, using the United States military rifle, fires 20 shots rapid fire at a target 200 yards away, 20 shots slow fire at a target 600 yards away and 20 shots slow fire at a target 1,000 yards away. The victors in this competition are awarded one trophy which is highly prized among marksmen. One prize to the service teams; a second to the National Guard units; a third to the civilian clubs, and a fourth to schools and colleges.

The first trophy is known as the National trophy. It is a bronze plaque showing Mars holding in his hand the "doss of war." The second trophy is known as the Hilton trophy. It is also a bronze plaque, hung about with "scallops" upon which are recorded the names of the teams that have won it since it was placed in competition in 1879. The third is known as the Soldier of Marathon; it is a bronze statuette and is the oldest of the three.

The second of the National Match competitions is known as the National Individual Match where individuals instead of teams participate, following the same course of fire prescribed in the team competition.

The third competition is known as the National Pistol Match and the honor of being victorious in this event is as highly prized among hand-gun enthusiasts as the victory in the National Individual Match among riflemen.

Program is Attractive.

The program of the National Rifle Association matches is no less attractive to marksmen. There is "The Wimbledon," a match shot at targets 1,000 yards away, the winner of which holds for one year the Wimbledon cup, presented to American riflemen by the Princess Louise of England in 1878, and assumes the title of "long range champion." There is the Leach Cup Match for the oldest trophy in competition at the present time—a massive silver tankard, a gift to the N. R. A. in 1874 by the captain of the Irish rifle team. That year stated this country to take part in the first international marksmanship contest. There is the President's Match, to the winner of which goes an unexpired letter of commendation from the chief executive and the title "military champion," and there is the Marine Corps Cup Match open to everybody, the winning of which is also a signal honor. The trophy in this competition was the gift of the commissioned officers of the marine corps.

Until 1916 there participated in the National Matches only the army, the navy, the marine corps and the National Guard. That year, however, congress authorized the participation of teams composed of members of civilian rifle clubs which are organized under the national board for the promotion of rifle practice in the war department. At the outbreak of the war with Germany there were in the United States more than 2,000 of these clubs with an aggregate individual membership of about 100,000.

During the war the membership of many of these clubs was depleted by volunteer enlistments and the draft, but since the armistice and the demobilization of the troops more of the clubs have become more active than ever before. The opening of the National Matches to civilian and riflemen has proved a wonderful impetus to rifle practice as a sport, and the effect of this policy, together with that of the government in fostering the organization of rifle clubs, were apparent in the records of American marksmanship made on the fields of France.

Two Teams From Each State.

Under the laws controlling the government competitions, a National Guard team and a civilian team from each state are authorized to attend the matches. These teams are named by the governor of the state, who may select the personnel of the teams through competition or according to geographical distribution, or arbitrarily. In addition to the two teams authorized, as many additional teams as desired may enter the competitions at their own expense.

The National Matches, since their inception and until 1918, have been held either upon a United States army or a state rifle range. This year, however, the championships will be decided upon a United States navy range.

For the past ten years the navy has made every effort to develop its bluejackets into good riflemen, on the theory that proficiency with small arms contributes in a large degree to proficiency in handling huge naval rifles, developing among the men a physical control and co-ordination of mind and body—a principle which found enthusiastic supporters in Secretary Daniels and Assistant Secretary Franklin D. Roosevelt. There, when war was declared against Germany, the office of gunnery exercise of the navy department lost no time in enlarging the scope of its courses in marksmanship.

The development of this activity took the form of establishing a chain of rifle ranges—the principal stations being at Caldwell, N. J., the largest of the chain; Wakefield, Mass.; Cape May, N. J.; Peckskill, N. Y.; Great Lakes, near Chicago; Glenn Beach, Md.; Virginia Beach, Va.; Mount Pleasant, S. C.; and San Diego, Cal. On these ranges scores of trained instructors not before or during the matches, will there be any expense for range practice. Sleeping accommodations will be provided without charge (but sojourners must bring their own blankets), and meals will be furnished at the cost price of the navy ration (now 60 cents per day).

A "team" in the National Team Match consists of twelve (12) principals or drawers, two or more alternates, one coach, and a team captain who may be, or may not be also a principal or drawer. The rules of the match will provide for teams from universities, colleges and schools, and it is earnestly hoped that a large number of universities, colleges, military schools and high schools will be represented by teams.

A separate pistol range will be opened so that pistol shooters may be accommodated at any time. When the more important pistol matches are held, it will be necessary to have them on the larger rifle ranges in order to provide a sufficient number of targets.

Paris, St. Louis, Hamburg, Vienna and Buenos Aires following in the order given.

Began the Bastille.

April 21 is the anniversary of the beginning of the building of the Bastille in 1770 by Charles V, who erected it as a protection against the English. The prison became famous in French history and was finally destroyed by the people in 1793. The key was sent by Thomas Paine to George Washington.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ailments which people today can be traced back to the kidneys. The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim. Kidney disease is usually indicated by weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, dizziness, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gait stumbles, gravel, rheumatism, scalded and lambo.

All these derangements are nature's signals that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Brand, the only, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Go to your drugstore today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Brand. Eastern Oil should feel health and vigor returning. After you feel somewhat improved, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep the first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL Brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

Discretion. Japan has granted its first woman's shipmaster's license to Orono Hamada, twenty years old. She applied last year to the maritime authorities for a license. The government regulations do not state whether a shipmaster is to be a man or a woman, although it is taken for granted that the positions are filled by men. When the girl made application there was no way to refuse her, and now that she has emerged from her examinations a certificate outfitting her to be a master of sailing craft, or any other vessel in the coast-guard service, has been granted. The girl's parents own a sailing vessel, upon which she has worked since she was fifteen years old.

European Families That Had More Than Ordinary Claims to World's Attention.

There is living at Bilbao, Spain, a family of seven who between them possess no fewer than 164 fingers. One of them has 23 fingers, another 21, while of the remaining five each can boast a couple of hands with 12 fingers apiece.

At Koshlivo, Russia, a very similar phenomenon exists in the fifty or more descendants of a peasant with extra fingers on his hands, who married at the beginning of the last century, all of whom are dowered with from one to five fingers in excess of the normal number.

The last surviving member of what was perhaps the record family with regard to weight was, in the person of Charles Atkins, a few years back interred at Harrow, England. He weighed 476 pounds, his brothers, who predeceased him, being no less than 505 and 580 pounds.

The family record for longevity has not been beaten since Robert Parr, the great-grandson of the celebrated Thomas Parr, died in 1757 at the age of one hundred and twenty-four. His father lived to celebrate his one hundred and ninth birthday, his grandfather reached one hundred and thirteen, while his great-grandfather was 152 at the time of his death.

There is mention in the Harlequin Miscellany a Scotch weaver and his wife who were the proud parents of 62 children, 50 of whom reached their majority.

Large as this family was, its fame pales before that of a Russian, one Ivan Vassilich, who was the proud father of 87. By his first wife he had 69 children in the following order: Four times quadruplets at a birth, seven times triplets and 16 times twins. By his second spouse he had twice triplets and six times twins.

Undoubtedly the record for misfortune belongs to a Belgian family named Adnet. The father, Jean Adnet, was drowned; his wife committed suicide, while of his two daughters one was killed by the bite of a horse and the other by a blow received from a falling scaffold.

Jean Adnet had six children, four sons and two daughters. Of these the latter perished through the overturning of a pleasure boat. One of the sons was stabbed in a drunken brawl, another was crushed to death by a heavy wagon, while the remaining daughter was emigrated to America, where she died in 1891 while fighting for Bismarck against congressists—Stray Stories.

Remarkable Twins. Darius Cobb, artist, who died recently, and Cyrus Cobb, sculptor, were twins whose similarity, not only in external features but in the nature and development of their talents, is one of the most remarkable in scientific history. At fourteen both were painting views of the Mississippi river. At sixteen they were both leading orchestras, having simultaneously taken up the study of music. About the same time they both wrote poems for a paper published by the father, the Rev. Sylvanus Cobb.

When the twins were nineteen years old they started painting, professionally. Cyrus painting the portrait of their father and Darius that of their mother. At twenty they added lithography to their accomplishments. In the Civil war they enlisted and fought side by side. At the close of the war came the first diversity in their activities. Cyrus then devoted himself to sculpture, designing a number of soldiers' monuments and historical figures. Darius became a historical painter. His head of Christ, upon which he labored 34 years, was regarded as his masterpiece.

Far From Other Cities. What is the most out-of-the-way place in the United States? A Utah man nominates Hannesville, in that state, for the distinction. Hannesville, he says, is the last postoffice for several hundred miles to the south and a hundred miles to the east. The mail that reaches there goes through so much hardship that the wrappings are usually worn out for it must pass through the hands of three star route contractors before reaching its destination. A letter from Hannesville, he says, has just reached him at Green River, 60 miles away, which had been 16 days on the way.

Used Theater Programs Cleaned. Conservation has extended even to rumpled theater programs, left in the seats by the patron of a theater, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. Between 200 and 300 are picked up each night, piled in stacks of 50 each, and pressed flat in a bookbinding press for 24 hours. Emerging flat and unwrinkled from this process, they are then run through rubber rollers, which erase all fingerprints and stains. It is said that it is impossible to distinguish these reclaimed programs from those just off the printing press.

The letters were even considered magical, and were cast into the air, written separately upon chips, and to be read by the interpreters.

Cape Holds Its Own All Year

Season in and season out the cape flourishes in undiminished popularity. It is not often, declares a fashion authority, that a conspicuous fashion universal favors, survives for a single season, much less for the four well-rounded ones which the cape already has to its credit, as it enters on the summer solstice with a following as enthusiastic as ever.

There are capes long and short, capes slim and straight or draped in voluminous folds, three tiered capes, reversible capes, capes in striking combinations of two materials in one color or of two colors in the same material, curious and interesting capes and cobwebby sketches of capes in georgette or tulle boldly accented with fur.

One sees much less of the waistcoat in the summer cape models. It is hard to tell whether the almost total elimination of this feature in all existing strictly sport models is due to the fact that its added warmth is no longer desirable or whether it has been simply done to death.

Collar Arrangements. The collar arrangement which wraps around the neck in many folds is still much in evidence, but there are capes with Medici collars, capes with a fitted yoke and high close-fitting collar and capes with no more collar than a band about the shoulders.

Cape of navy blue and biscuit silk, poplin, and one of brown tulle over brown chiffon fur trimmed.

One of the most useful cape models is a very wide band of the fabric folded softly back across the front from hem to hem. This can be gathered snugly about the throat or allowed to fall in gracefully negligent folds around the shoulders as occasion demands.

This cape is displayed at its best in two-toned combinations of one material or in different fabrics of identical color. It is handsomely developed in navy blue serge and satin or in castor tricotelle and duvetene.

There is a peculiar smartness about the circular three-tiered capes, and there are capes on straight lines also with three tiers, the extremely wide cape collar which falls well below the shoulder line forming the upper tier.

These capes are at their best in Power twill or gabardine, but it is only fair to say that the useful navy blue serge cape has been relegated to the background which useful old friends are so frequently required to grace.

In dealing with the summer cape there is not much to be said of woollen fabrics except as they are used in combination with silk stuffs or in their unchallenged field, the sport outfit.

For Sport Wear. For summer sports the strictly respectable tailored capes of English worsteds and tweeds may be passed over as year round standards, but capes have by reason of their light open weave a distinctly summery place in the sport outfit.

Wool jersey still has a claim on the summer sportswoman and capes of this fabric are frequently seen, the most popular development of this garment being the detachable cape to be buttoned beneath the collar of a sleeveless sport suit.

A white wool jersey sleeveless sport suit has a cape of navy blue wool jersey, with white facings buttoned back with pearl buttons. This forms a very useful as well as an undeniably attractive costume.

A sport cape which is comparatively new and which will interest many women is fashioned of chanellette, a wool fabric, apparently knit by hand, but in reality a product of the knitting machine, can be purchased by the yard in a variety of gay and lovely colors. It is 36 inches wide and sufficiently expensive, but as capes of this type are cut very scant and straight a large quantity of the fabric is not required.

Narrow bands of Angora knitted wool may also be bought with which capes and sport coats of chanellette are bordered, collared and cuffed. A cape has been designed for country wear of heavy, soft linen crash, lined with bright gingham, which has a certain bizarre charm of its own but comes dangerously near being an eccentricity.

Silk, Satin and Wool. Capes of silk weaves for daytime wear spell summer in every lustrous length of tricotelle or satin and in the crisp and sprightly folds of moire or taffeta. Satin is often used in combinations with wool, either duvetene, gabardine or wool jersey. The upper part of the cape is usually of satin, the lower edge of the woolen fabric at the shoulder edge. Often the collar of wool, but frequently of fur.

A detachable cape of this type has the lower half of beige wool jersey, the upper half of brown satin and the collar of summer, ermine.

Satin as well as taffeta is sometimes reduced to the severe cut of the three-tiered cape, but it is at its best in the more suave and gracious lines of the draped models. One very lovely

Editor Gave Rough Check in Exchange for Rough Verses Offered by Poetic Youth.

The young man rolled his eyes as he entered the editorial sanctum. "Here is a poem which you may publish in your paper. I dashed it off in an idle moment, and you will perhaps find it a little rough. You can make any correction you please."

"Thank you," said the editor. "I will give you a check for it at once."

"You are very kind. I shall be delighted."

The editor handed him a check. "Many thanks," said the poet. "I will bring you some more poems."

He had reached the door, when suddenly he turned.

"Excuse me, but you've forgotten to fill up this check," said the editor. "Oh, that's all right," said the editor. "I have given you a check in the rough state, as it were. You can make any corrections you please."

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

Could Be Remedied. One day little Jack did not wish to pick up his blocks. His mother said: "Why, Jack, if you don't pick them up it will break your mamma's heart."

But with a quick reply, Jack said: "Oh, mamma, then I'll get a string and tie it up."

Life's Luxuries. "What are the luxuries of life?"

"Things that were necessities two years ago."—Life.

Living Monstrosities.

Instances where a living creature appears to consist of two singular parts capable of a certain degree of separate life are cited by many authorities. It is noted that this phenomenon occurs abnormally and occasionally even among human beings. Instances are Helena and Judith, the Hungarian sisters (1701-1723), the famous Slavic twins (1814-1873), the South Carolina negroes Millie and Christina, and the Bohemian sisters, Rosalie and Josephine.

Often the union is so much closer that the consolidated individuals do not survive long after birth. Among the lower animals the phenomenon is far more common than it is among human beings, and it is thought possible that by persistent selection and breeding a race of double monsters might be established.

KEEP YOURSELF FIT!

You can't afford to be laid up with sore aching kidneys in these days of high prices. Some occupations bring kidney trouble; almost any work makes kidneys worse. If you feel tired all the time, and suffer with back ache, aching pains, dizzy spells, headache and disordered kidney action, use Doan's Kidney Pills. It may save an attack of rheumatism, dizziness, or bright's disease. Doan's have helped thousands back to health.

A Michigan Case. E. Wilkins, engineer near at City Water Works, says: "I suffered from sharp shooting pains in my right side and across my kidneys. Nothing did me any good until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. After a few boxes the kidneys were cured and I finally passed a gravel stone which had caused it. When I have had an ailment with my kidneys since I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have always been worth the money."

For Sport Wear. For summer sports the strictly serviceable tailored capes of English woads and tweeds may be passed over as year round standbys, but capes of homespun, dyed in soft tulle colors, have by reason of their light weight weave a distinctly summery place in the sport outfit.

Wool jersey still has a claim on the summer sportsman and capes of this fabric are frequently seen, the most popular development of this garment being the detachable cape to be buttoned beneath the collar of a sleeveless sport suit. A white wool jersey sleeveless sport suit has a cape of navy blue wool jersey, with white facings buttoned back with pearl buttons. This forms a very useful as well as an undeniably attractive costume.

A sport cape which is comparatively new and will interest many women is fashioned of chambray. This wool fabric, apparently knit by hand, but in reality a product of the knitting machine, can be purchased by the yard in a variety of gay and lovely colors. It is 36 inches wide and sufficiently expensive, but as capes of this

FOR BLONDES AND BRUNETTES

Expert Declares Brilliant Colors Do Not Accord With All Dark Complexions—For the Fair.

All believers to the contrary, an expert declares that brilliant colors, such as red and gold, do not accord with all brunettes. To brunettes with a delicate complexion and brown eyes pale blue, periwinkle blue and Chinese rose are much more advantageous.

When the skin is tinted more with orange than yellow it can be made rosy by neutralizing the yellow tinge. Yellow, especially maize color, produces this effect upon the black-haired and chestnut-haired types and in this case suits only the brunettes. Blondes, however, should avoid all yellow tints that more or less resemble the color of their hair. To the light-haired girl all blues, from navy to the lightest shade, are eminently suitable.

To the maid with golden blond locks or sandy hair the intermediate colors, such as dark violet and ruby red are becoming. Their complexion is generally so fresh that the juxtaposition type are cut very scant and straight a large quantity of the fabric is not required.

Narrow bands of Angora knitted wool may also be bought with which capes and sport coats of chambray are bordered, collared and cuffed. A cape has been designed for country wear of heavy, soft linen crash, lined with bright gingham, which has a certain blaree charm of its own but comes dangerously near being an eccentricity.

Silk, Satin and Wool. Capes of silken weaves for daytime wear spell summer in every lustrous length of tulle or satin and in the color and sprightly folds of moire or tulle. Satin is often used in combinations with wool, either dove-tail, gabardine or wool jersey. The upper part of the cape is usually of satin with a broad band of the woolen fabric at the lower edge. Often the collar is of wool, but frequently of fur.

A detachable cape of this type has the lower half of beige wool jersey, the upper half of brown satin and the collar of summer, ermine.

Satin as well as tulle is sometimes reduced to the severe cut of the three-tiered cape, but it is at its best in the more suave and graceful lines of the draped models. One very lovely

MADE IT WORK BOTH WAYS

Editor Gave Rough Check in Exchange for Rough Verses Offered by Poetic Youth.

The young man rolled his eyes as he entered the editorial sanctum. "Here is a poem which you may publish in your paper. I dashed it off in an idle moment, and you will perhaps find it a little rough. You can make any correction you please."

"Thank you," said the editor, "I will give you a check for it at once."

"You are very kind. I shall be delighted."

The editor handed him a check. "Many thanks," said the poet. "I will bring you some more poems."

He had reached the door, when suddenly he turned.

"Excuse me, but you've forgotten to fill up this check!"

"Oh, that's all right," said the editor. "I have given you a check in the rough state, as it were. You can make any corrections you please."

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent, it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kinner's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kinner & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medicine and large size bottles at all drug stores—Adv.

Could Be Remedied. One day little Jack did not wish to pick up his blocks. His mother said: "Why, Jack, if you don't pick them up it will break your mamma's heart!" But with a quick reply, Jack said: "Oh, mamma, then I'll get a string and tie it up."

Life's Luxuries. "What are the luxuries of life?" "Things that were necessities two years ago"—Life.

Living Monstrosities.

Instances where a living creature appears to consist of two similar parts capable of a certain degree of separate life are cited by many authorities. It is noted that this phenomenon occurs abnormally and occasionally even among human beings.

Often the union is so much closer that the consolidated individuals do not survive long after birth. Among the lower animals the phenomenon is far more common than it is among human beings, and it is thought possible that by persistent selection and breeding a race of double monsters might be established.

Safety in Silence. "An intelligent looking dog you have there."

"Indeed he is," said the proud owner.

"Now, if that dog could only talk, the things he might say!"

"Perish the thought! That dog has followed me into all kinds of places."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

KEEP YOURSELF FIT!

You can't afford to be laid up with sore, aching kidneys in these days of high prices. Sore occupations bring kidney troubles, almost any work makes weak kidneys worse. If you feel tired all the time, and suffer with lame back, sharp pains, dizziness, headache and disordered kidney action, use Doan's Kidney Pills. It may have an attack of rheumatism, dropsy, or Bright's disease. Doan's has helped thousands back to health.

A Michigan Case. S. W. White, manager of City Works, 400 Pleasant St., Detroit, Mich., says: "I suffered from sharp shooting pains in my right side and across my kidneys. Nothing did me any good until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking two boxes the kidney secretions cleared up and I was able to get on my feet. The pain left and I know the stone had caused it. Whenever I have any complaint with my kidneys since I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, they have always been beneficial."

BETTER LAY IN YOUR SUGAR SUPPLY NOW

Reports from Europe all indicate an even greater demand for sugar from America than was expected in the latest information from the U. S. Food Administration. Nowhere is there an indication of a falling off in the requirement from us. Local production in practically all regions in Europe has been decreased. The United States, through the operations of the Sugar Equalization board, enjoys a lower price than Europe, but the world situation makes it highly improbable that there will be any material decrease in the price in this country.

There is danger, however, that American distributors, through failure to place their orders now, may later on be unable to meet the demand that comes on them with the coming season, and in consequence much valuable food may be wasted through the housewives' inability to get and preserve it. As soon as shipping is more plentiful so that Europe may begin to import its sugar supplies in large quantities, the demand on American producers will be so heavy to meet these orders that they will find great difficulty in getting for orders that will come in later from American dealers.

The requirement for domestic land in Europe ordinarily employed in sugar raising to other food crops, together with other economic causes reducing the European production, is likely to lower the crop there to 1918-19, as compared with 8,161,400 tons in 1912-14.

NELLE PALMATIER MARRIED TO ILLINOIS LIEUTENANT

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at the morning national church, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when Miss Nelle Palmatier, and Julian Verkes Malone of Jacksonville, Ill., were united in marriage. Rev. J. Broad officiating. They were attended by their mothers, Mrs. Minnie Palmatier and Mrs. Charlotte O. Malone respectively, and Miss Alma Krieger of Madison as maid of honor, and Mr. Frank Walsh of this city as best man.

The bride's party entered the vestibule, separating just inside the church proper, the bride accompanied by her mother, preceded by the maid of honor, and the groom attended by his mother, preceded by the best man, met at the altar. The ceremony was the double ring service which was most impressive. The wedding march was played by Miss Elizabeth Schreiner of Menomonie, Wis., a pupil of the bride, and during the ceremony she played "Spring Song" very effectively, which was most delightful. The church was decorated with ferns and flowers.

The bride was charming in a dress of white georgette crepe, and carried a show bouquet of Ophelia. The maid of honor wore a gown of blue and gold georgette crepe and carried a bouquet of snap dragons. The mothers carried bouquets of mignonette. Mrs. Palmatier wore a gown of black and white georgette crepe and Mrs. Malone wore a gown of lavender georgette crepe.

After the ceremony an elaborate four-course breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, the color scheme in the dining room was most artistically carried out in pink and white roses. The home was a scene of flowers, the reception room presented an effect of fairy land. With the strains of thrilling music all through the breakfast, after which the most happy social hour with the newlyweds and friends was spent.

The wedding party accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Julian Verkes Malone to the train showing good wishes and blessing the happy journey. This city being the birth place and home she needs no introduction. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and became supervisor of music in the school of music at Menomonie, Wisconsin which position she held for four years. The groom was born and raised in Jacksonville, Illinois, and graduated from the high school of that city. He then attended Ripon college from which he graduated, earning a fellowship and scholarship in the University of Wisconsin, pursuing his course in medicine. He is now a resident in the department of Pharmacology, from which he has received a fellowship assistant in brain surgery, for the coming year, also continuing his medical school course. The bride and groom will spend some time on the lakes and in Madison, entertained by their many friends and associates and his fraternal Phi Beta, after which they will make their home in St. Louis, Mo., where they will be at home to all their friends.

"That Jones boy who used to work for you wants to hire out to me. Is he steady?"

"Steady? If he was any steadier he'd be notorious."

GRAND RAPIDS GIRL WEDS SIGEL MAN ON WEDNESDAY

Miss Nellie Hunt and Robert Ogilvie, the former of this city and the latter a well known Sigel farmer, were married at the Congregational church Wednesday morning at 9:00 o'clock, Rev. Noel J. Breed performing the ceremony. Miss Fessie Hunt, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid while Earl Hein, was the groomsmen. Misses Margaret Horton and Gwendolyn Thompson acted as ring bearers. Following the ceremony the wedding party enjoyed a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, following which the newlyweds left on a wedding tour to Chicago, Milwaukee and other points in the state, after which they will reside on the groom's farm in the town of Sigel. Both of the contracting parties are well educated. The groom, who has been having taught in the schools of Wood County for the past four years, and is a graduate of the Wood County Normal. The groom is one of the progressive and industrious farmers of Sigel and owns a nice tract of land there. The Tribune unites with their friends in wishing them happiness.
